AND GRAY

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

THEME

In an effort to awaken a new loyalty and a new courage in the students of Robert E. Lee High School, and to provide them with an example to emulate in this time of trial; we have chosen for the theme of the 1942 BLUE and GRAY the life of General Robert Edward Lee: a true Southern gentleman, a scholar, and, above all, a good American.

Although General Lee led the forces of the South against the Union, he still retained in his heart the qualities of tolerance, justice, and self-reliance which the United States has always fostered. A gentleman worthy of the State of Virginia, of the South, and of the Nation; Lee was faithful to the virtues that are synonymous with the chivalry of the Confederacy. Since the time of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, and "Stonewall" Jackson, the youth of the South, imbued with the undying spirit of these men, has been the first to answer the call of National Defense and to fight valiantly for the ideals they have inherited.

Now again the South is called to the colors and again under the battle standards of their forefathers, the descendants of those who fell for the Stars and Bars will lead a united Nation to victory.

GO FORTH WITH COURAGE, SONS OF LEE!

DEDICATION

To MISS CLEVIE H. CULLUM, the 1942 BLUE and GRAY is respectfully dedicated. On the anniversary of her fifteenth year of service in our school, it is fitting that her tireless efforts be recognized by this distinction. Quiet, patient, and gentle, Miss Cullum's proficiency in mathematics and her facility of instruction have made her outstanding among our faculty. To those students who were fortunate enough to have been under her guidance, she has imparted not only a deeper appreciation of her subject; but also a keener insight into the solution of everyday problems. Miss Clevie H. Cullum's ability as a teacher and her Christian principles of character are not unlike those of another Southern educator—Robert E. Lee.

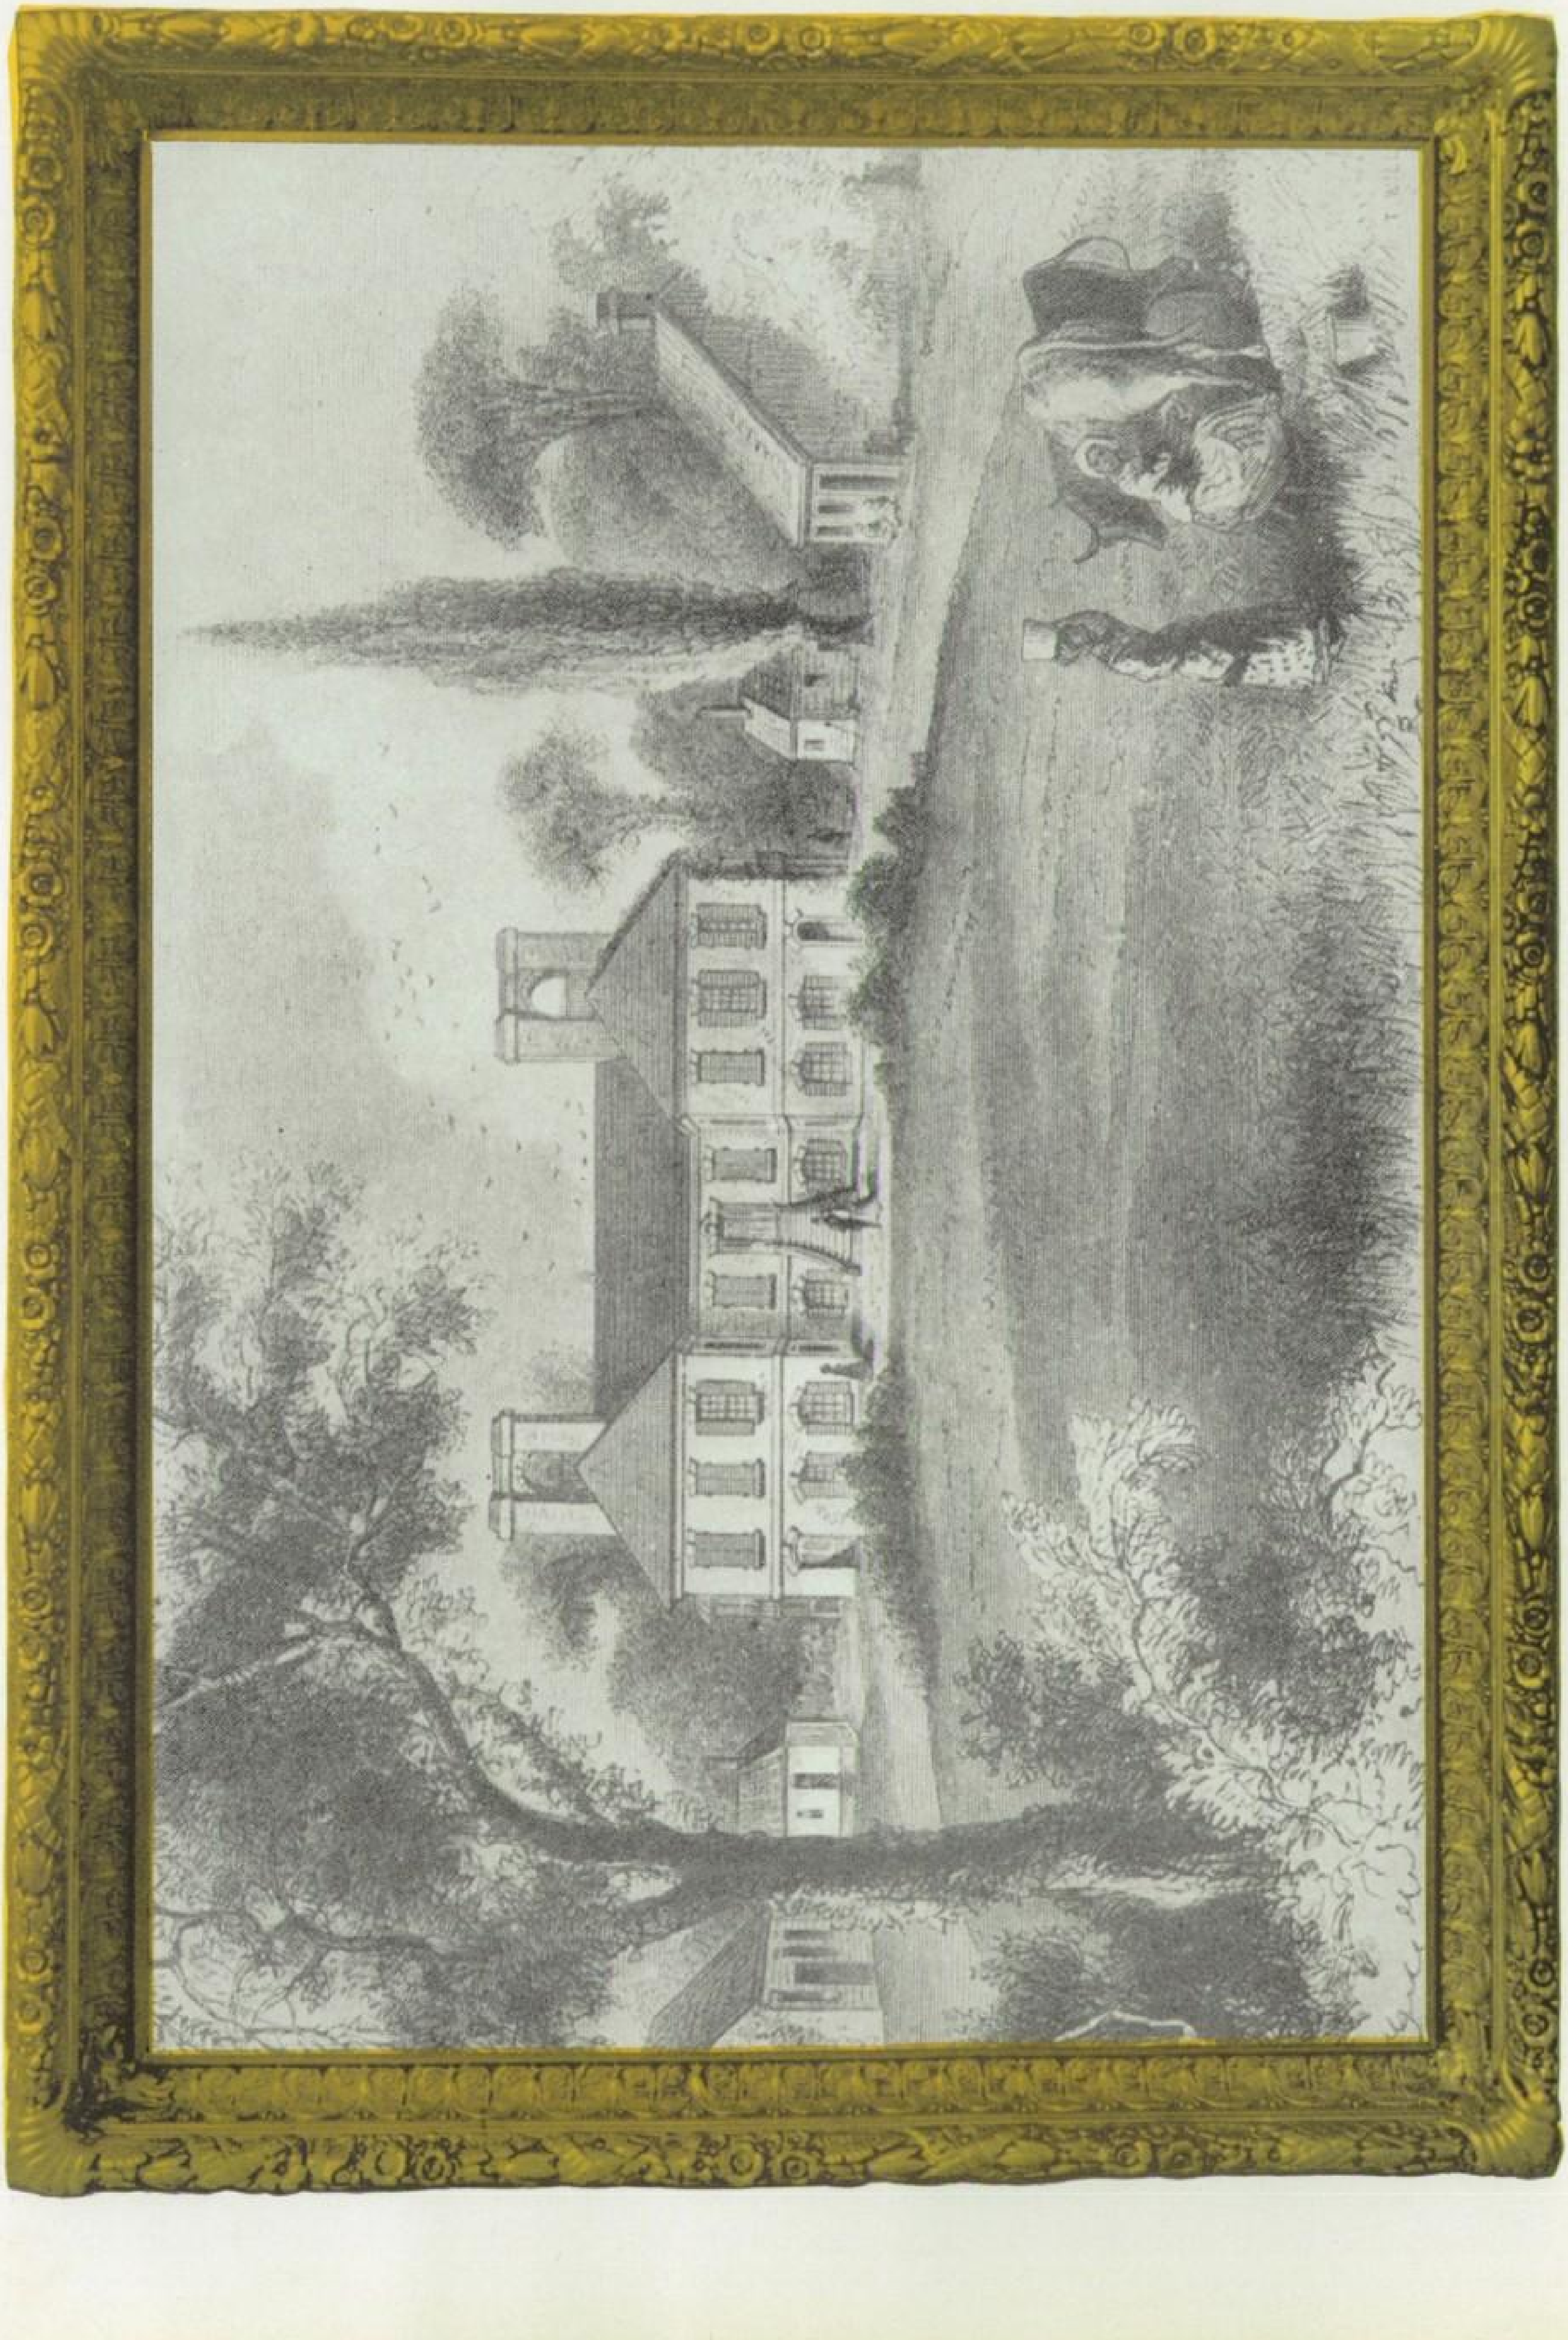

In memory of C. R. Jury
Member of the
Robert E. Lee High School Faculty, 1935-1941

ADMINISTRATION

THE 1942 BLUE AND GRAY

No family in America is more prominent in the history of the nation than the LEES OF VIRGINIA. From good English stock, the Lees have reared sturdy, honest, fighting men and wise statesmen since the time of Thomas Lee, the immigrant.

On his great estate, Stratford, in Westmoreland County, Virginia, this first Lee built his home, Stratford Hall, a mansion in harmony with its feudal surroundings.

In this, the Great House of the Lees, on January 18, 1807, there was born to Light-Horse Harry Lee and Anne Carter Lee, a son, ROBERT EDWARD LEE.

The picture of Stratford Hall, opposite, is taken from an old painting by Minnie Ward and used through the courtesy of Ethel Armes.

FACULTY

In 1825 President Andrew Jackson appointed young Robert Lee to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Without having received a single demerit, Lee graduated with distinction four years later—the second in his class. He was commissioned a lieutenant in the Engineering Corps, U.S.A.

The great Virginia families of Washington and Lee were united when on June 30, 1831, Lieutenant Lee married Mary Parke Custis, great step-grand-daughter of General Washington. From his father-in-law, Lee inherited the beautiful estate, Arlington Heights, overlooking the City of Washington across the Potomac.

This portrait is of Robert E. Lee in the uniform of a Lieutenant of Engineers. It was painted by Benjamin West in 1831.

SENIORS

THE 1942 BLUE AND GRAY

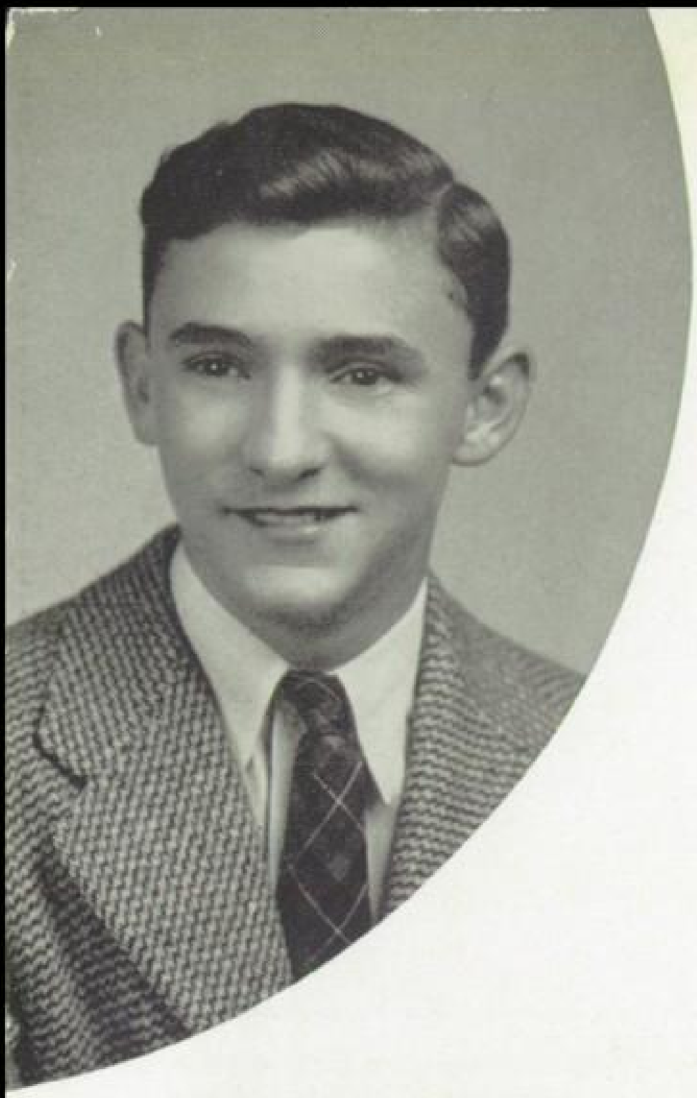

As a consequence of his distinguished service in the Mexican War, Lee won the brevet rank of colonel and the high commendation of his commander, General Winfield Scott. General Scott officially reported that his own "success was largely due to the skill, valor, and undaunted courage of Robert E. Lee, . . . the greatest military genius in America".

After three years of work in the Army Engineers, Lee was appointed in 1852, Superintendent of West Point. There he exercised his talents in his favorite vocation, teaching. Employing his theory of practical discipline, Colonel Lee noticeably raised the academic standards and improved the ESPRIT-DE-CORPS of the institution. His faith in youth and the eminent justice and kindness with which he met youth's problems made him one of the greatest superintendents of West Point.

This painting, known as the West Point portrait, hangs in the gallery of the Academy. Lee is in the uniform of a lieutenant-colonel.

FEATURES

THE 1942 BLUE AND GRAY

In June, 1859, while on furlough from his cavalry regiment in Texas, Lee commanded the detachment of Union troops, which captured the renegade abolitionist, John Brown, at Harper's Ferry.

After this incident the differences of the North and South became more and more marked. Events rushed on. With the election of Lincoln, the United States became a house divided. Like hundreds of other soldiers from the South, Lee was forced to decide between his country and his state.

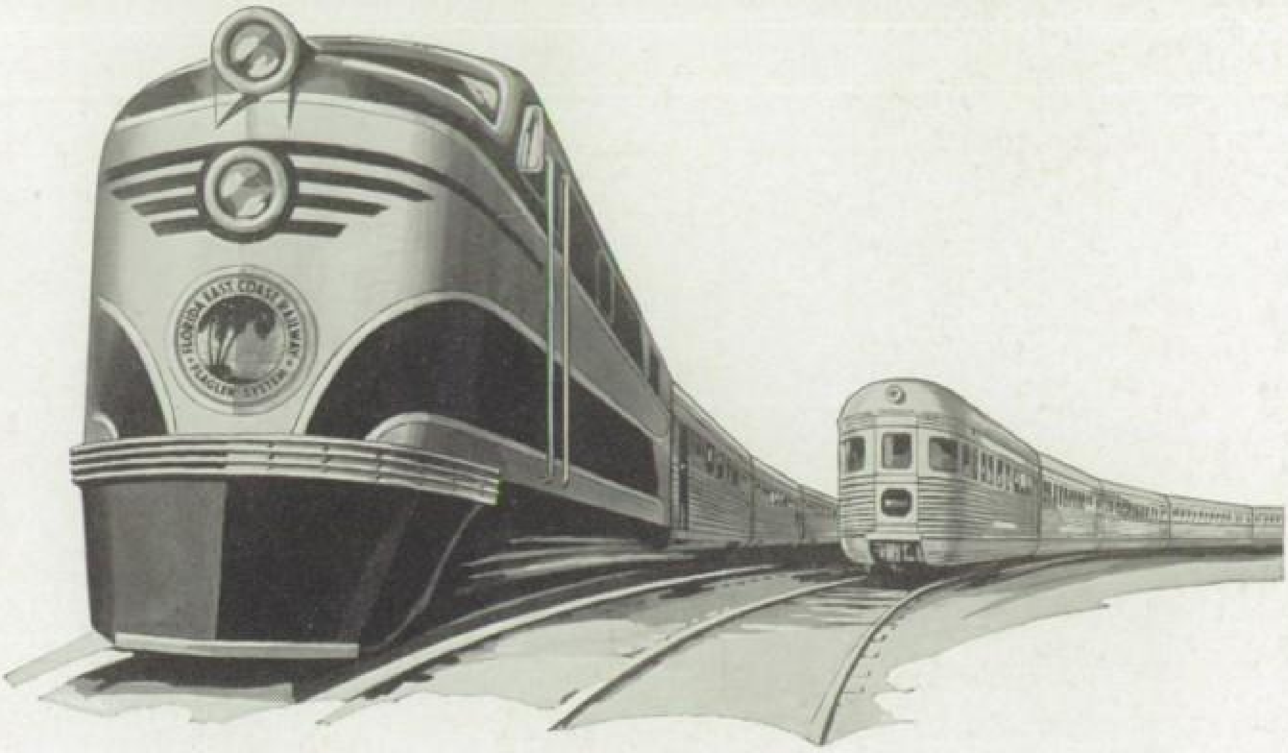

"I shall never bear arms against the Union, but it may be necessary for me to carry a musket in defense of my native state, Virginia, in which case I shall not prove recreant to my duty."—Lee, 1861.

President Lincoln offered Colonel Lee the command of all the field armies of the United States. Realizing that this meant civil war, Lee replied by proffering the resignation of his commission to the Secretary of War.

This portrait shows Robert E. Lee in his full maturity. It is reproduced with the permission of Washington and Lee University, from a painting by Theodore Pine (1904).

LEE GOES TO

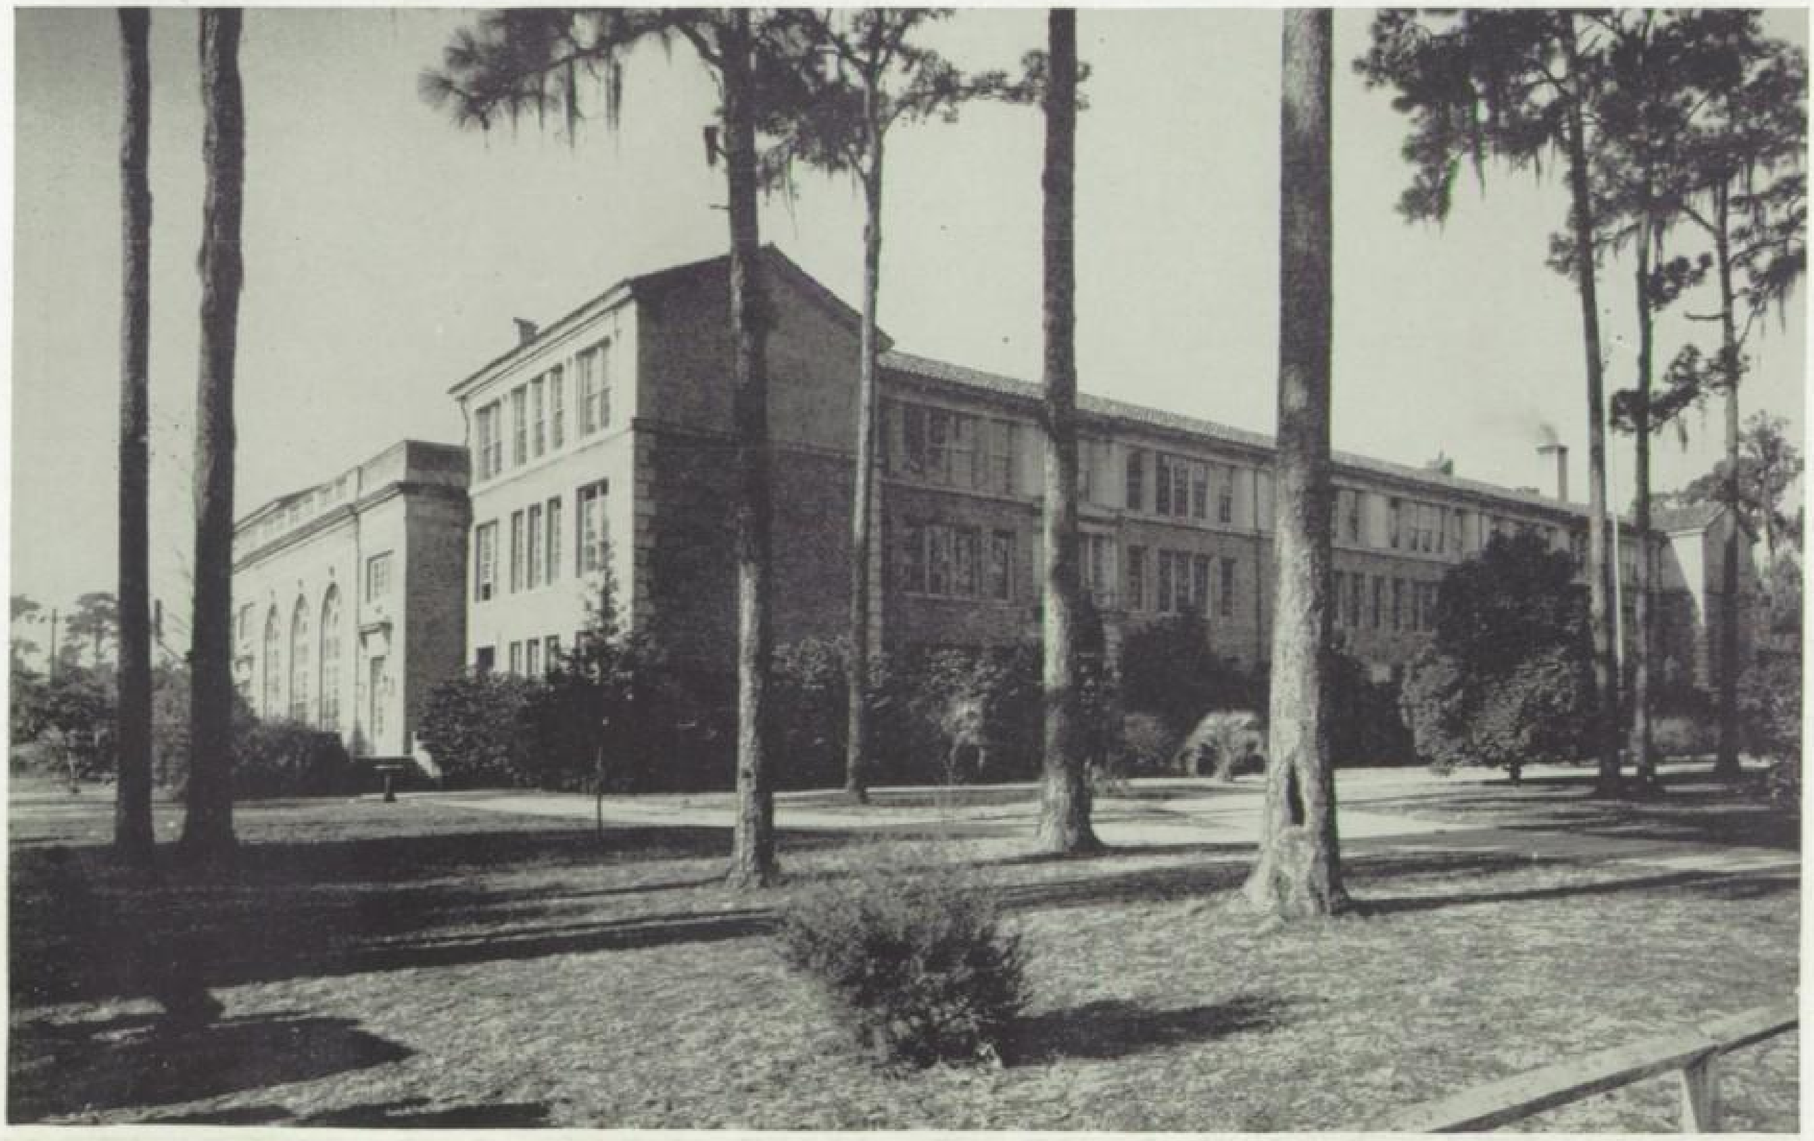

WAR

U. S. ENTRY INTO WAR AFFECTS LEE STUDENTS AND FACULTY

THE entry of the United States into the war has had many and varied effects on the lives of the students and faculty of Lee High School. Excited and aroused by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the war, latest news reports, etc., were the main topics of conversation for the first few days. On the day after Pearl Harbor, classes were virtually suspended while anxious students and faculty members tuned radios in to the President's historic message to Congress. Radios in the gymnasium, cafeteria, auditorium, study halls, and class rooms made it possible that everyone might witness the formal Declaration of War. A pin might have been heard to drop, so ghostly silent was the whole school when the "Star Spangled Banner" brought the special war broadcast to a close.

This excitement and interest, far from "war hysteria", was only to be expected in high school students. Gradually, as the novelty of experiencing a war for the first time in their lives wore away, Lee High School settled down to the grim task of helping win it. The average Lee student, confident that the United States would win the war, set about doing his part. From the opening of the school day at 8:30 A. M. to late at night, defense activities of one sort or another are taking place in Lee. The school "war effort" ranges from collection of scrap paper and the sale of defense stamps, to the nightly use of the building for the instruction of the teachers in first-aid.

Six Lee teachers are now in the armed forces; three in the Navy, one in the Marine Corps, and two in the Army. From even prior to the Pearl Harbor atrocity, the office force has been swamped with applications of former Lee students for acceptance in the Marine, Navy, Air Corps, Coast Guard, and other government services. These, and more of the contributions of Lee High School to the successful prosecution of the war, are to be found on following pages. (CONTINUED)

Students at Lee regularly purchase defense stamps from the main office. Completely filled stamp books are exchanged for bonds.

DEFENSE STAMP SALES was one of the first defense activities participated in by the students and faculty of Lee High School. The sale of defense stamps was instituted at Lee at the opening of the term and continued to increase until the end of the school year. Students eagerly and conveniently made their regular purchases of defense stamps in the main office. Sales sometimes mounted to as high as $51 a day. Complete sell-outs were regular, if not routine. Secretaries, Mrs. Lightfoot and Miss Chelf made repeated hurried trips to down-town post offices for fresh supplies of stamps in order not to disappoint students, who were learning valuable lessons of thrift while they were helping support the war effort. Homeroom teachers placed "defense honor rolls" on blackboards, allowing students who purchased defense stamps to sign their names underneath. Under the impetus of this school-wide enthusiasm, Annual Staff members hastily wrote to Washington to obtain the "Minuteman" electrotype for defense stamps and bond advertisement elsewhere in this section. Altogether an estimated $2,500 has passed into government channels from the sale of defense stamps at Lee.

One week's paper collection piled on gym floor ready for salvage company. Thirty-six such loads have left Lee.

WASTE-PAPER COLLECTION was another of Lee's early contributions to the preparedness effort. Early in the first semester of the present school year, the Junior Girls' Club, under the direction of their sponsor, Miss Gertrude Broward, inaugurated the famed "paper drives". Both faculty and the student body cooperated to make this one of the most successful enterprises ever undertaken at Lee. Scrap paper, collected from each homeroom was piled in the gym. Here the girls sorted it into piles according to grade. Salvage companies bid for purchase of the paper at prices ranging from $.25 to $.40 per hundred pounds. Magazines and newspapers bring the highest prices, with scrap such as writing material, cardboard, etc., bringing considerably less. Money obtained from the sale of waste-paper was donated to the Red Cross War Relief. By the close of school 25,000 pounds of paper had gone for this purpose.

R.O.T.C. GETS RIFLES. The Lee High School Cadet Corps was founded over a year ago, at the outset of the American emergency program. The group, which at first included only Seniors, was fostered by the local members of the United States Army Reserve. The second semester of last year found the demand so great that Juniors and Sophomores be allowed to participate, that the new unit had to be expanded until Lee boasted the largest and finest cadet battalion in the county. After an application for government recognition had become stalled in red tape, unsatisfied instructors, Capt. D. W. Copeland and Lieut. David Germain, secured obsolete U. S. Army Winchesters for drill, manual of arms instruction, etc. At the close of school, 1942, 500 Lee High School boys between the ages of 15 and 18 were engaged in preliminary military training.

Lieutenant Felix Sharp, Lee graduate, and a former R.O.T.C. instructor, is now inside Japanese held Philippine territory.

Petty-Officer Sam I. Smith, Jr., Lee teacher and BLUE and GRAY sponsor, joined the Navy in November, 1941

LIEUT. FELIX SHARP attended Lee High School from 1932 through 1935. He graduated from Citadel in 1940. Sharp returned to Lee in 1941 to serve on the faculty as R.O.T.C. instructor. Shortly after completion of his first term, he was called for duty in the U. S. Army on the basis of his commission as a reserve officer. Trained in artillery, his proficiency merited his assignment as commander of a native battery in the Philippine Islands. He was serving there at the time of the Japanese attack. It is believed that he is now inside captured territory.

SAM I. SMITH, Jr. came to Lee in September, 1940 as a study-hall director. He succeeded William F. Blois, Jr., as sponsor of the 1942 BLUE and GRAY. Smith enlisted in the Navy in November, 1941. He is now serving at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station. Due to his special qualifications, Smith expects to receive a commission as soon as seniority permits.

ENSIGN WILLIAM F. BLOIS, Jr., (not pictured), is another ex-member of Lee's faculty who has joined the armed service. A Lee graduate, Blois taught English in his high school alma mater from 1937-1941. He was sponsor of the 1941 BLUE and GRAY. William Blois was commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Navy in July, 1941.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT food courses, one of the electives of a home-making requirement for girls, now assumes more importance than ever before. Girls are taught to plan and to prepare balanced meals suitable to a war-time economy. They learn to shop wisely, to take advantage of proper fresh vegetables in season when prices are lowest, and how to select meats. Food and nutrition classes are interesting to the girls because they are practical.

Home Economics Instructor Mary M. Dally (center) is pictured giving girls "low-down" on cake-making.

WHAT DUVAL COUNTY SCHOOL TEACHERS AND PUPILS SHOULD DO DURING AN AIR RAID

OFFICIAL -- BY THE U. S. OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE

EMERGENCY INSTRUCTIONS FOR SCHOOLS UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE!

1. What to Do When the Air Raid Warning Sounds.

Big Jim—5 blasts, 15 seconds each, 45 seconds between

South Jacksonville—5 minutes continuous blast
Fire Engine—Same as Big Jim

Sound the school fire alarm in a special way (short rings, etc.) Have each class leave its room in order as in fire drill. Conduct classes to the Air Raid Refuge.

DO NOT permit any pupils to leave the building.

DO NOT allow any pupils to return to classrooms until "All Clear" signal is given.

DO NOT SEND THE PUPILS HOME.

These protective measures will require organization, planning, training, and drill. They should be started at once.

2. Air Raid Drill.

Use your fire drill organization to get pupils to the Air Raid Refuge. Have them file from the classroom the same way, in the same order, under the same leaders. But take them to the Air Raid Refuge.

3. The Air Raid Refuge.

The chance of a direct hit on any individual building is very small. You must guard against the blast of nearby high-explosive bombs, and incendiaries and falling fragments of antiaircraft shells.

You must get away from windows, and from open doors. The large inside halls of most schools are suitable for an Air Raid Refuge. Do not use the halls on the top floor of the building. The cellar is a suitable Air Raid Refuge provided there are plenty of exits and provided any windows to the outside can be protected by a layer of sandbags.

Select the most protected places in the building—be sure they provide enough capacity to hold everyone without crowding. Be sure there is more than one exit.

It is important, too, that the Air Raid Refuge should have easy access to drinking water and toilet facilities.

4. What to Do About Incendiaries.

Be sure the fire extinguishers are in proper working order. Be sure you have enough people—teachers or older pupils—who know how to use them. Appoint these people as fire guards. Have them take assigned posts when the Air Raid Drill sounds. Appoint a Chief Fire Guard.

If incendiaries hit the building, the fire guards should try to handle them, and put them out with water spray. If the fire gets beyond control, the Chief Fire Guard should sound the regular fire alarm. All pupils should then be conducted from the building as in regular fire drill. Class leaders should conduct them in an orderly fashion to shelter in nearby homes. Leaders must keep the pupils in control.

5. What to Organize.

Do these things right away—they are essential now:

(a) Select the Air Raid Fefuge—more than one if necessary. Be sure there is more than one exit.

(b) Determine how the school alarm will be sounded for an air raid.

(c) Assign a refuge space or refuge room for each class or classroom. Assign class leaders to conduct the drill—the same as for fire.

(d) Publish full instructions; have them read over and over again to pupils. Have them posted on bulletin boards. Be sure every teacher and pupil understands them—now.

These things should be done at once. We are suddenly, unexpectedly, at war. When you have completed all of these things, it is time to organize your long-range planning.

6. Here Are Some of the Steps to Take.

The Department of Education or other school authority, under the direction of the local Defense Coordinator, should plan and adopt a war program for the duration. Here are some of the steps to consider:

(a) Appointment of school building wardens, whose duties should be coordinated with their local zone or district Warden Service.

(b) Special transmission of Air Raid Warnings from the control center to school buildings.

(c) Fire Defense—Adequacy of present equipment, appointment of fire watchers (or fire guards), and special training in combatting incendiaries.

(d) Protective Construction—Quick and simple measures to provide additional security.

(e) Study of alternate Air Raid Refuges for teachers and pupils in case of fire. Depending upon location, suitable buildings in the neighborhood may be available for use as Air Raid Refuge.
It is desirable to explore this possibility in order to effect dispersion where it can be done without undue exposure to the children.

7. What to Do About Training.

Start your training now. Don't wait for the final plan. Drill your pupils to behave on an Air Raid Alarm just as they do on a Fire Alarm. Hold drill every few days until they are thoroughly accustomed to it.

Keep up the morale of the pupils, so that if a raid occurs you will have experience in keeping them occupied. Organize first aid training for selected groups. Organize fire defense training for the fire guards.

8. Are We in Danger?

The answer to that is—we don't intend to be caught napping again—anywhere or anytime. We are not going to say again—"It can't happen here."

Don't rush around, don't worry, but ACT! These are simple precautions. Read them again. Think how you will apply them to your school. Then take the necessary action—today.

PARENTS!

Read This!

If an air raid should come while your children are at school, see to your own safety. Stay home, go to your refuge room, stay away from windows.

Do not try to reach the school. You could accomplish no good. You could do a great deal of harm by such action.

In an Air Raid, Rule Number 1 is to stay off the street, get under cover. On the street, there is the risk of falling shell fragments, racing cars, and fire apparatus. Stay indoors.

Do not try to telephone. The wires must be kept clear for the wardens, the police, and the fire department. You might prevent an urgent message from getting through.

This is hard advice. It's not easy to take. But it is for your best interest and for the welfare of your children.

W. DANIEL BOYD, Superintendent, Public Instruction, Duval County

THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM at Lee plays a vital role in the school's defense effort. Always an important and required part of school curricula, physical education warrants more attention than ever before in the present crisis. Girls' and boys' gym classes (twice weekly), girls' archery classes, and boys' extra-curricula athletics, such as football, basketball, track, etc., serve to keep Lee High School students physically fit. In gym classes girls play badminton, horseshoes, softball, soccer, and tennis, while boys play tag football, basketball, track, and baseball in season. Coach Warren Kirkham and girls' physical education instructor, Miss Maria Jane Clemans, urge all students to take part in some sport. For the larger, sturdier boys, contact sports such as football and basketball are encouraged. Smaller, lighter boys may have an opportunity to take part in track, tennis, or swimming. Two gym periods per week for each student is a state requirement.

Gym courses and extra-curricula athletic program such as track keep Lee students in physical trim.

DEFENSE CLASSES. The Lee school building is in almost continuous use from 8:30 A. M. to 10 at night in defense activities of one sort or another. Civilian Defense meetings, civilian air-raid precautions, lectures in the auditorium, and the Civilian Air Patrol drill classes burn lights until late in the evenings. "Defense classes" are the most frequent and regular occupants of the building. For the past two years, since the beginning of the national emergency, these classes for the instruction of adult civilians in defense occupations have been held in local high schools. Courses in chemical engineering, radio and communications, aircraft construction and design, applied mathematics, airport layout and hangar construction, and modern languages are offered. Approximately 1,000 people have been fitted for defense positions in these classes.

Defense class for adult civilians giving instruction in aeronautical engineering and aerodynamics.

FIRST-AID CLASSES. Lee High School faculty members have also been greatly affected by the entrance of the United States into the war. Besides participating in draft registrations and sugar rationing, teachers are now seriously engaged in preparing themselves for emergency first-aid duty. Three two-hour classes per week serve the entire faculty, with approximately twenty-five in each class. One additional class in advanced first-aid for instructors is presided over by Biology Department Head W. L. MacGowan. Misses Clemans and Holden, physical education instructors, together with Miss Erress Arant, conduct basic courses. Late working annual staff members, interrupting classes in order to take photographs were alarmed to find 'Fessa L. C. Harwell stretched at full-length on the floor, splints on arms and legs, head bandaged, and with the entire class gathered 'round to witness the demonstration. Teachers take their first-aid seriously. In the event that Lee should be the victim of an air-raid, they will be prepared to care for injured pupils.

Lee teachers take turns binding and gagging each other for practice in first-aid administration.

Ann Taylor, talented dramatically, played leading roles in Senior Girls' Club Jubilee, "The Charm School", and in the Senior Play, "June Mad". Elected "Best Looking" girl in the J.G.C. Popularity Contest, she also modeled fashions for THE ARLINGTON.

Betty Watson, President of the Senior Girls' Club, is also a member of Science and French Clubs, was active in the presentation of the Senior Girls' Club Jubilee.

Grace Perry, a cheerleader for her three years at Lee, is also Mascot of the Hi-Y Club and a member of the Staff of the BLUE and GRAY.

George Simons has won first place in two state-wide cello competitions. A member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY, he sketched the caricatures of the teachers in THE ARLINGTON.

Outstanding 1942 Graduates

The 1942 graduating class of Robert E. Lee High School boasts as many outstanding students with as varied talents and abilities as any class in the school's history. Selected by joint ballot of seniors and faculty, this group was originally planned to be composed of the ten most outstanding graduates, five girls and five boys. Due to the number of students who received large ballots, these pages now contain twelve selections, six girls and six boys.

Typical of all Lee graduating classes, the 1942 class contains scholars, musicians, artists, journalists, and athletes. Robert Ross, salutatorian, combined scholastic, athletic, and journalistic talents. Guy Gilleland, popular with the students, is President of the Senior Class. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of the 1942 BLUE and GRAY. Musician George Simons, twice a first place winner in state cello competitions, also gifted artistically, drew the caricatures of teachers elsewhere in THE ARLINGTON. Buck Lanier is a member of the Quill and Scroll journalistic society. He wrote sports for 1942 BLUE and GRAY and also for THE ARLINGTON.

These Lee graduates, typically American, are capable of making the contributions to society necessary to the maintenance of our democracy. Pictured on this and following pages are other outstanding 1942 Seniors.

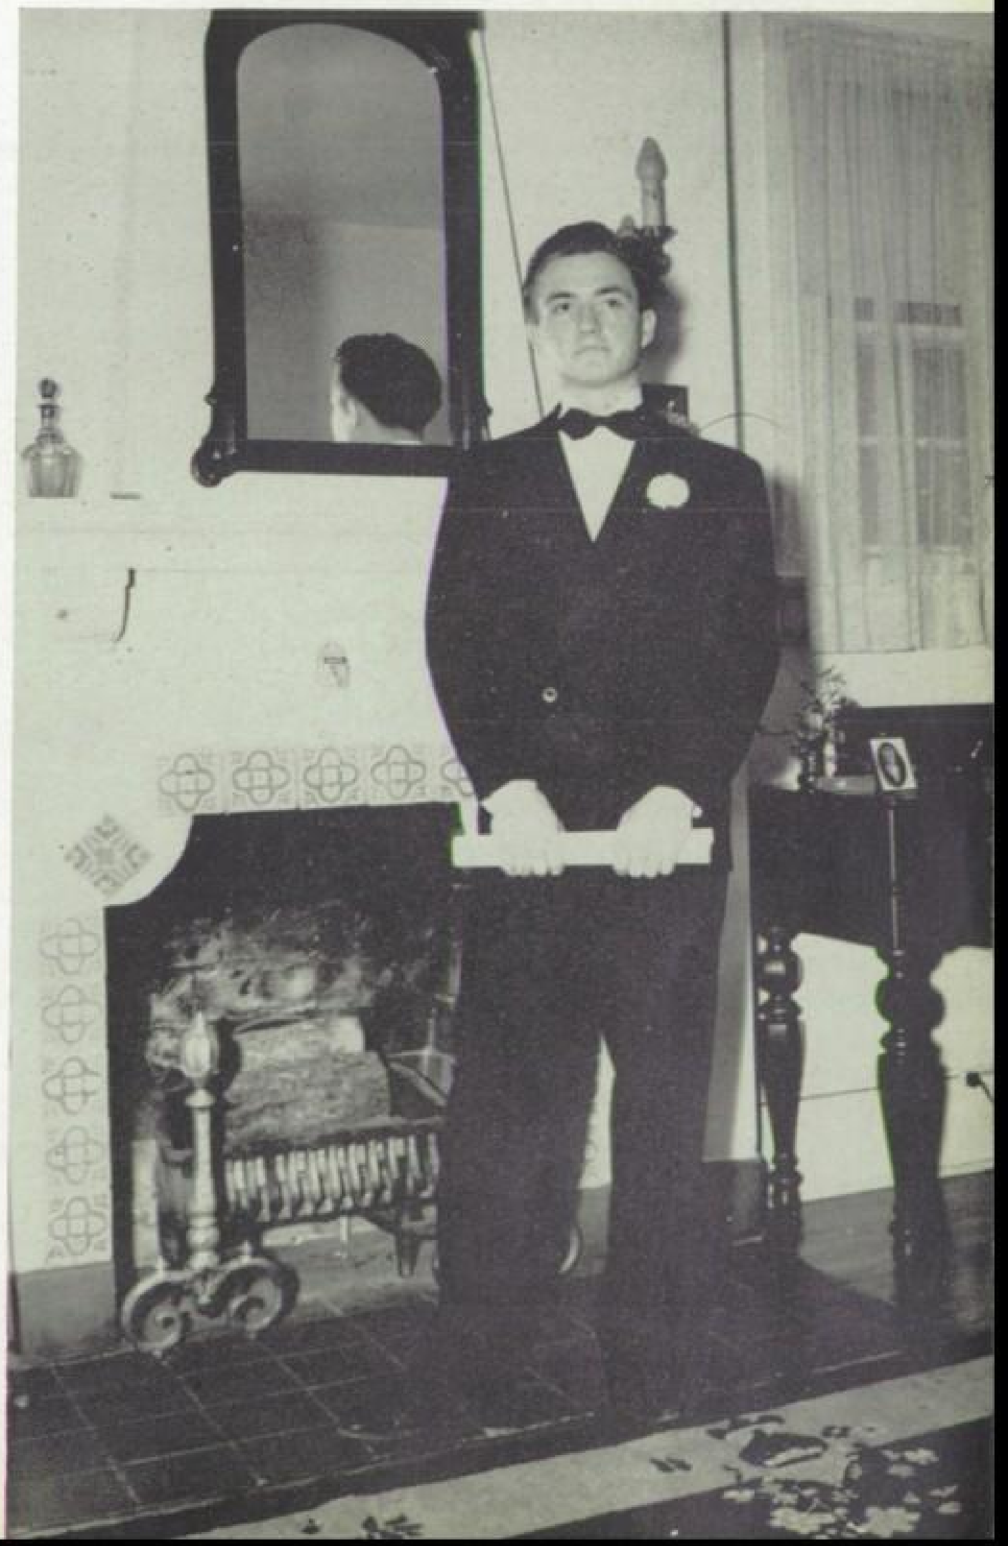

Betty McMurry, elected "Most Capable" girl in the J.G.C. Popularity Contest, a member of the Glee Club, Dramatic Club, Science Club, and Red Cross Club, is also on the Dean's Staff.

Pictured here as she appeared in the Senior Girls' Club Jubilee, singer Margaret Lane has performed in almost every stage presentation during her attendance at Lee. She plans to make music her career.

Leo Shave is popular with the students, has been president of both the Junior Boys' Club and the Senior Fellows' Club. Leo was also interlocutor of the S.F.C. Vodvil.

Robert Ryan is a star athlete, played on football, basketball, and track teams, and is also Chaplain of the Senior Class.

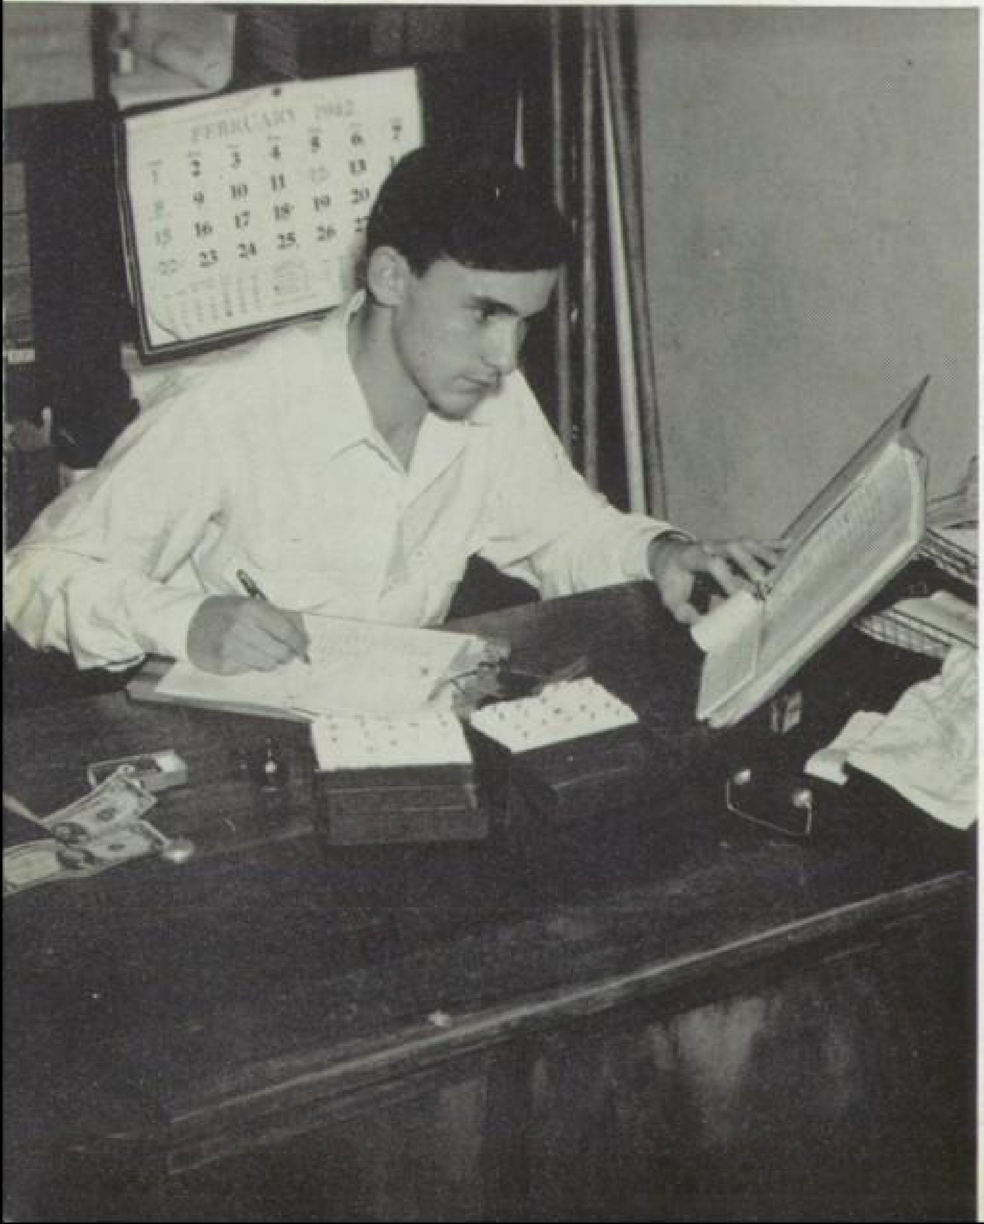

Frances Glenn is the popular Vice-President of the Senior Class, Secretary of the Glee Club, and has also been President of the Sophomore and Junior Girls' Clubs.

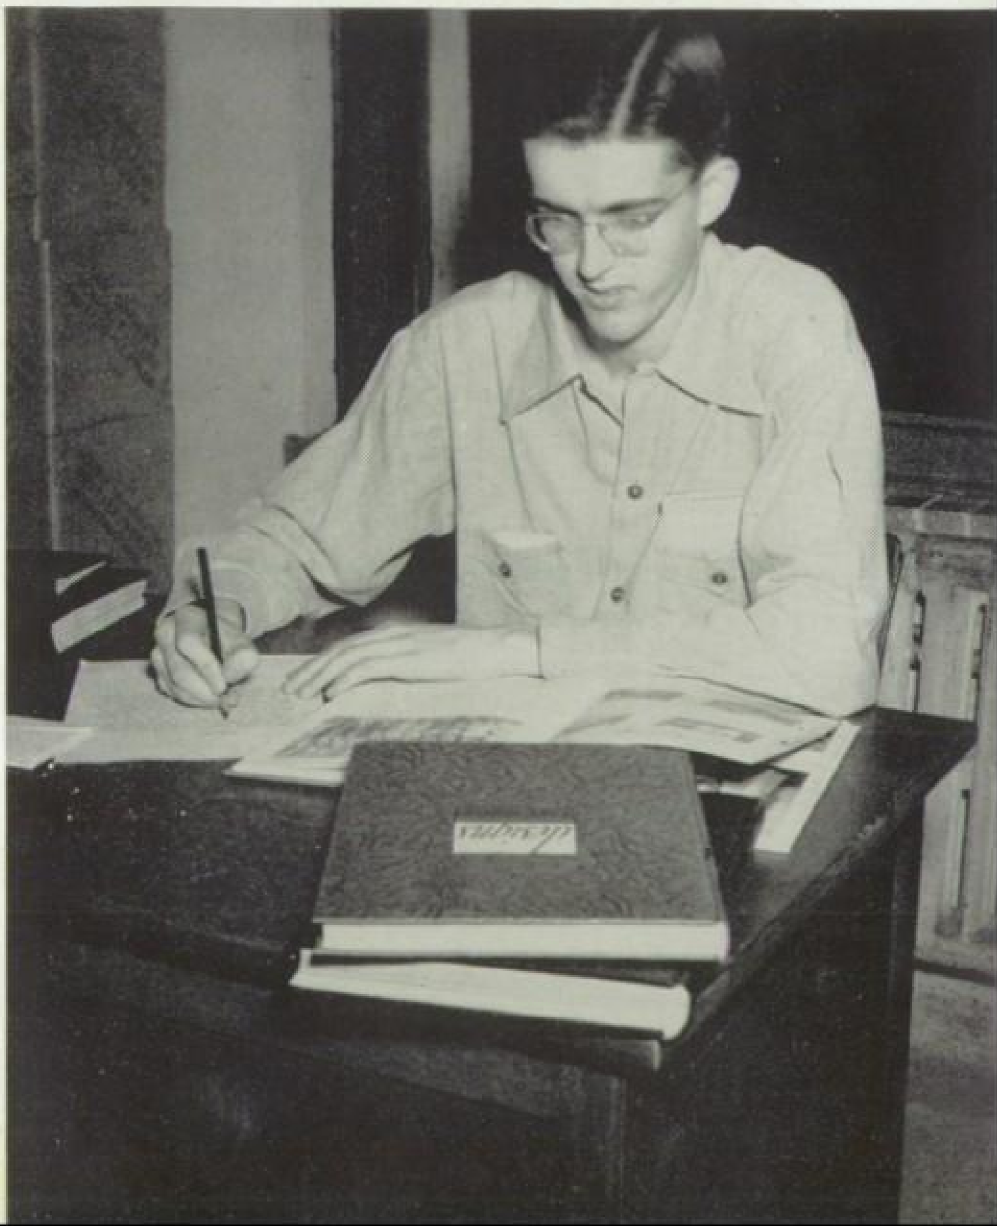

Versatile Salutatorian of the Senior Class, Robert Ross, is No. 1 man on the Lee tennis team and Senior Editor of the BLUE and GRAY.

Guy Gilleland, member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY in charge of business, is also President of the Senior Class and Head Cheerleader.

Buck Lanier is Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senior Class. Journalistically inclined, he has written sports for Lee publications for the past two years, is a member of the Editorial Board of the BLUE and GRAY.

LEE STUDENTS ENJOY THE STAGE

HIGH school students have always been attracted to the theater. This is particularly true at Lee. The wide variety of amateur theatricals presented on the stage of the Lee High School auditorium attests the enthusiasm of Lee students for performing before audiences, both student body and parents. During the course of Lee's "theater season" everything from Gilbert and Sullivan operettas to "vodvils" are offered. There are few mediocre attempts. This is because students whole-heartedly "pitch in". They paint their own scenery in many instances, design their own sets, and may make their own costumes. There is no main contributor to the theater at Lee. The Dramatic Club, the Glee Club, and the Senior Fellows' Club each make one presentation. Everyone in Lee has the opportunity to satisfy his inclination to act. This has been a particularly successful year for the "Lee theater".

The first dramatic presentation to take place on the Lee stage this year was the Christmas Pageant. Lee students always look forward to the annual Christmas program. This year's offering was unusually fine. The Bible Department, under the direction of Mrs. James E. Barbee, and the Glee Club combined to present "The Pageant of the Holy Grail". The body of the story was related by a narrator from the side of the stage, with scenes in the story enacted by members of the Bible classes. The Glee Club, standing in the balcony, furnished a background of religious music.

This year's Dramatic Club contribution was the Fifteenth Annual Senior Girls' Club Jubilee, taking place in the Lee High School auditorium the night of December 14, 1941. The program consisted of a three-act play under the direction of Marie Spurlock Harmon, entitled "The Charm School". Ideal for a student cast, the plot dealt with the inheritance of a strict girls' school by a handsome young man, Rodney King. In attempting to break down straight-laced regulations as to clothes girls must wear, make-up, etc., he incurs the ill favor of starched old maid faculty members, and the admiration of an attractive senior girl, Mary Crabtree. The script calls for two kisses, called "clinches" by students, a necessary part in any successful Lee play. Both "clinches" and play as a whole pleased students immensely. The leads were Mary Crabtree, Rodney King, Gene Robinson, and Edwin Blalock.

The Senior Fellows' Club Vodvil is one of the most anxiously awaited and looked forward to of Lee's stage productions. Over fifty boys in sophomore, junior, and senior classes participate. The 1942 offering, entitled "The Show of All Shows" was built around a defense theme, and was opened with a "black-out" scene. Scenery for vodvil acts represented Pearl Harbor, with smoking volcanos in background. "Nigger" end-men cracked jokes with interlocutor; ballad singers performed between times. Senior Fellows' Club mascot, comely June Thornton, stepped through a volcano to be presented to the audience. The show closed with song, "Remember Pearl Harbor", sung by the entire cast as grand finale.

The Senior Play, "June Mad", took place on the nights of May 22 and 23, too late for coverage in THE ARLINGTON.

Christmas Pageant, "The Holy Grail", presented by Bible classes under the direction of Mrs. James Barbee. Cast includes approximately thirty Bible students and a hundred members of the Glee Club, who sang Christmas music from the balcony at intervals in the program.

Rodney King and Mary Virginia Crabtree go into "clinch" in the last act to bring show to a close. Students, highly pleased with long embrace, depart thoroughly satisfied.

Charlie Blum's interpretation of the Carmen Miranda dance had Vodvil audience in stitches. Phonograph supplied voice and music sound effects.

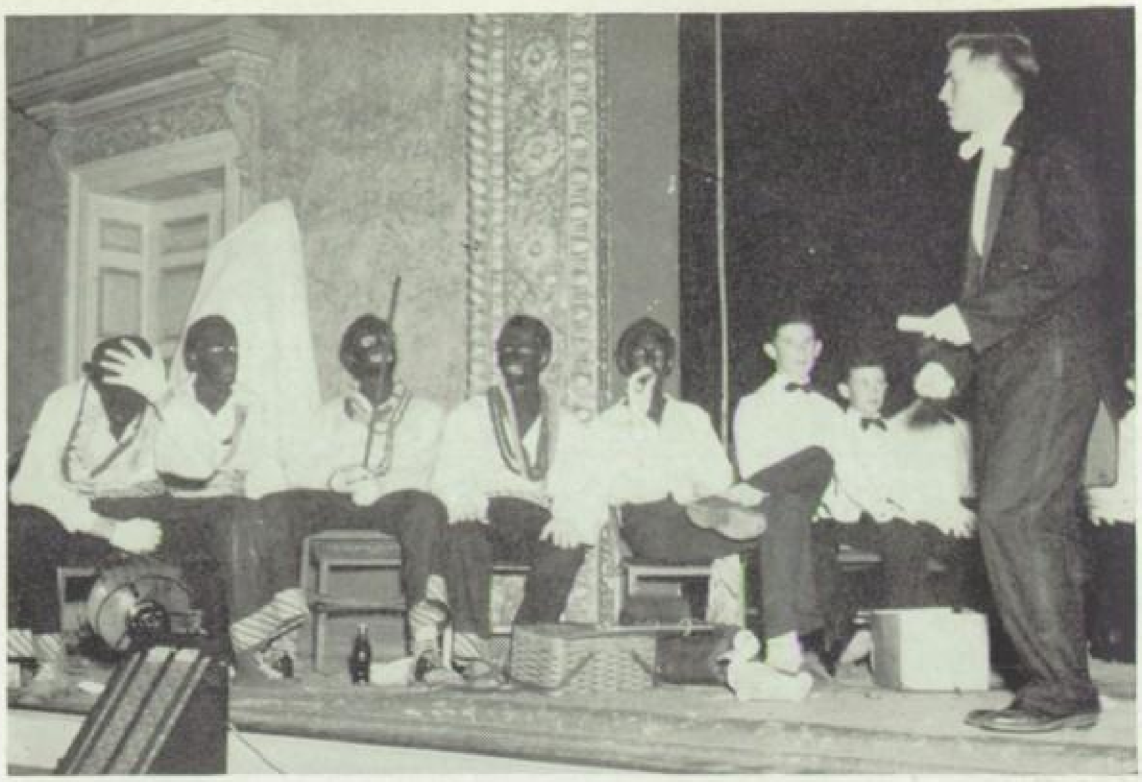

"Tangerine" was sung by Jack Lippincott. Repeated applause gave him four encores.

Lester Bodden pictured singing "The White Cliffs of Dover", another between-the-acts spot number.

End-man Jerome Knauer cuts loose with "Barrel House Bessie from Basin Street".

Interlocutor of 15th Annual S.F.C. Vodvil, entitled "The Show of All Shows" was President of Senior Fellows' Club Leo Shave.

Between the Vodvil acts, Tommy Dixon, Tommy Barrow, and John Hicks tell a "sad, sad story", "She Lost It at the Astor".

June Thornton, Mascot of Senior Fellows' Club, stepped through a volcano to be presented to audience.

JACK RANK
THE ONE-MAN THEATER

Jack Rank, Shakespearean actor, was, beyond a doubt, the most outstanding professional entertainer to appear on the Lee stage this year. Presenting condensed versions of Shakespeare's comedies, Rank plays all parts. Quick changes and conversations behind the scenes, heard by the audience, facilitated his carrying several roles. Students were particularly amused at his interpretation of female characters and repeatedly applauded Rank's girlish voice. So enthusiastic were the students over Jack Rank's production of "The Merchant of Venice" that the BLUE and GRAY Staff sponsored a return engagement for the presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew". Both shows played to capacity crowds.

Finale of "The Sorcerer". Operetta was presented on two successive nights by separate casts

THE SORCERER

During the five years in which Willie Pearl Wilson has been head of the Music Department and director of the Glee Club, operettas have come to be a tradition at Lee. Lee has witnessed five operettas; four of them have been Gilbert and Sullivan products, and one other modern, but of similar light variety.

The operetta this year was "The Sorcerer". The score and the story were particularly adaptable to the high school stage and cast. The plot was built around two lovers' attempt to fill their community with the love that brings happiness such as theirs. A sorcerer is consulted, and a potion is concocted and administered to the townspeople. The lovers, Alexis and Aline, partake of the brew in order to assure their own eternal affection. As the drugs take effect, everyone falls in love with the first person of the opposite sex he meets. Invariably absurd and unhappy pairs result. Alexis and Aline are even separated. The Sorcerer reveals that, in order to break the spell, someone must give up his life. After he sacrifices his own the townspeople are free to follow their own inclinations, and the lovers are reunited. Leads were played by Mary White and Billy Milton in the first performance, and by Hallie Kenimer and Bobby Brock in the second. Jack Leet was particularly outstanding in the role of the Sorcerer.

Hallie Kenimer and Bobby Brock played leads in second performance; Mary White and Billy Milton, the first.

LEE SENIORS SELECT NEW FASHIONS AT PURCELLS

Our graduating Seniors select the clothes they like best for Lee High's first fashion revue—clothes suited to the increasingly active tempo of the day—practical for the young high-schooler or the college-bound.

Quite sensitive as to just what she should or should not wear, the Lee girl has wisely chosen clothes that fit within the average young budget—clothes that mother will like, as well as the boy-friend—clothes that will make her schoolmates just a wee mite jealous.

Long conscious of the particular needs of our style-wise youth, Purcells have concentrated on Junior fashions with just the proper touch of ego-flattering sophistication. Understanding sales personnel make shopping easier for those who may be "on their own" for the first time.

Participating models—Lee Seniors—Flo Bartleson, June Thornton, Ann Taylor, Claire Cashen, Merle Lyda, Sarah Dozier, Patty Hill, Margaret Treisback, Cornelia Dozier, Dot Payne, Helen Parramore, under the supervision of Ready-To-Wear Buyer, Lois O'Flynn and Sportswear Buyer, Gladys Hendricks of Purcells.

SLACK-HAPPY, and ready for an active day are Margaret Treisback and Dot Payne. Jersey and shark-skin slack suits feature bright color contrast blouses.

SADDLE STITCHED CLASSICS, one and two piece versions of favorite sport types, modeled by Cornelia Dozier and Grace Perry.

MILITARY BALL

The Military Balls are two of the "big" school dances of the year. Held near the close of each semester, they are the occasion of appointment of officers for coming term. In the Grand March, pictured above, newly commissioned officers parade with their sponsors.

Between numbers, couples gather around band, talk to players, request favorite songs. Here they seem to be testing the microphone.

SPORTS

SPORTS at Lee High School have enjoyed excellent success for the past three years. In all, while the class of '42 has been at Lee, its representatives on the athletic field have had more than their share of glory.

Taking all contests into consideration, Lee has won a total of 105 and lost 45 for a better than .667 percentage. All of these wins have, of course brought various championships and included, all won in the past three years are: one state championship, two Big Ten Championships, three Regional II Championships and eleven City Titles.

The athletic teams this year were also well above the average, and were keynoted by the fact that they all started slowly and finished very fast.

Our football team was no exception as it was as green as the proverbial "apple" and lost three of its first five games. However, it improved with each game and by the time that the season had rung down its curtain the boys had victories over Landon and Jackson and had won the City Title for the fifth successive year.

Without a doubt the Lee-Jackson game of '41 will long be remembered by every student that saw it as he saw a team that, trailing 0-6 with time running out fast, blast over three touchdowns and win going away. Horace Chance was the hero of this encounter as he broke away for two sensational scoring runs of 77 and 65 yards and scored the third touchdown on a line buck.

The other game worthy of note was with Landon in which the Generals scored a hard-earned 7-0 triumph. This game was a subject of controversy for several weeks thereafter as a ruling by the field judge on a complicated punt play was bitterly protested by the Lion adherents. Moving pictures of the game showed that the official's interpretation of the play was right and that there was nothing tainted about the Generals' victory.

In the annual Kiawanis All-Star game the Blue and Gray warriors performed creditably and pleased the large crowd of spectators by their determined spirit.

After football had passed there was a few weeks of inaction, but not for long, for King Basketball was right around the corner. Having lost practically every member of the 1941 Big Ten and Regional II Championship squad, Coach Kirkham and the team realized that there was a great deal of hard work ahead.

The basketball team, like the football team started slowly but finished with a burst of speed. After having lost several of their first few games by one-sided scores the Generals settled down and managed to defeat Hillsborough of Tampa in their final game and clinch third place in the Big Ten. In the game with the Terriers, Lee was behind all through the game until the last 17 seconds when they went ahead 29-28 and stayed ahead.

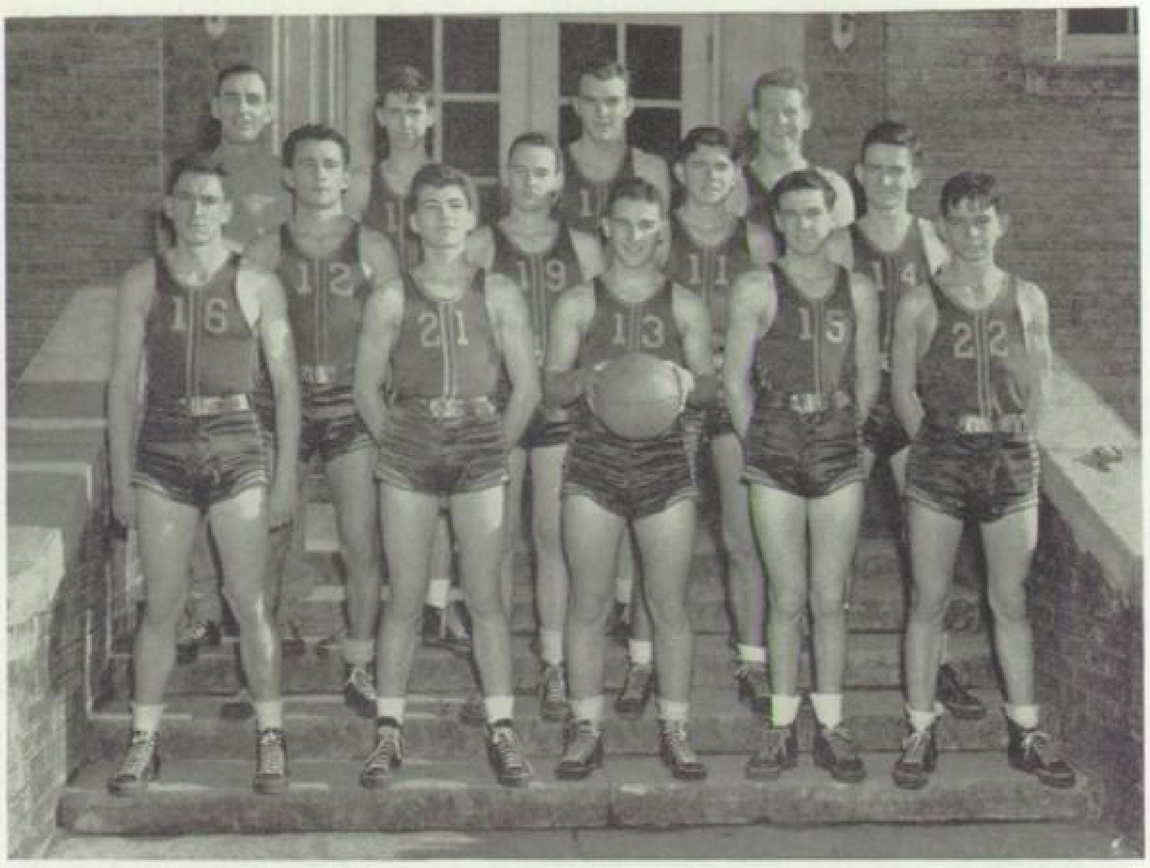

In the Regional II Tournament Lee lost a heart-breaking 20-19 game to Jackson in the semi-finals. By going to the semi-finals of this tournament the Generals qualified themselves to participate in the State Class A Tournament in Tampa.

End "Stinky" Davis carries ball on spinner play in Jackson game. Davis made All-Big Ten, All-State, and All-Southern prep teams.

J.G.C. Holds Popularity Contest

Each year at Lee the Junior Girls' Club sponsors a contest to select the most popular Lee students. First, a ballot is nominated by sale of votes by Junior Girls' Club. Each vote costs a nickel. Receipts go to help cover cost of J.G.C. activity space in BLUE and GRAY. Using ballot selected in this manner, the final choice is made in a "free" election. Classifications such as "Best Looking", "Most Capable", etc., guide students in voting. Resulting selections are as follows: "Best Looking", Ann Taylor and Bob Carter; "Most Popular", Brownie Carter and Guy Gilleland; "Most Athletic", Lorraine Macy and Tommy Dixon; "Most Studious", Rose Helen Fields and Robert Ross; "Cutest", Ann Johnson and Stubby Blalock; "Best All 'Round", Helen Parramore and Dick O'Donahue; "Wittiest", Mary Virginia Crabtree and Buck Lanier; "Most Capable", Betty McMurry and Jimmy Acree; "Most Talented", Margaret Lane and Bobby Brock; "Best Groomed", Martha Sue Stewart and Jerome Knauer.

ACTIVITIES

The die was cast. Virginia had withdrawn from the Union and Lee had entered the service of the Confederate States of America as military aide to President Jefferson Davis.

When the need for an experienced commander of the Virginia Army became apparent, Lee was given the post with the rank of general. Although recalled to Richmond to coordinate the Atlantic coast defenses during the winter of 1861-2, Lee assumed command of the Army of Northern Virginia on May 31, 1862.

He first demonstrated his genius for strategy and tactics in the Seven-Days' Battle in which he stopped McClellan's advance on Richmond. This was quickly followed by the crushing defeat of the Federal Army under Pope, the invasion of Maryland, and the bloody, but indecisive, Battle of Antietam.

The glory of the victory at Fredericksburg was dimmed, however, when at Chancellorsville, Lee lost his beloved friend and comrade-in-arms—"Stonewall" Jackson. It was a blow to the South and a personal blow to Lee, for he felt the absence of this God-fearing soldier during the long last months of the war.

This famous steel engraving shows the last meeting of the two great generals —Lee and Jackson.

At an organization meeting of the Sophomore Girls' Club held early in the first semester the girls were welcomed to Lee High School by Mrs. Culp; Mrs. Lois Rowell, the new sponsor, was introduced; and officers were elected.

Soon after this meeting each member of the organization was given an opportunity to join the committee on which she preferred to work during the school year. From those signing up the following chairmen were appointed:

Social Committee	Fifi Henderson
Welfare Committee	Minerva Rogers
Finance Committee	Joyce Williams
Newcomers Committee	Sara Daughtery
Annual Committee	Katherine Terrell
Assembly Committee	June Walton

The Social Committee sponsored a "Backward Tea Dance" on November 6, to raise money for the class picture. The Annual and Finance Committees both have worked on this project. The Welfare Committee had charge of the Tuberculosis Seal Sale in December and followed it to the successful conclusion of raising $69.70.

GLEE CLUB

Miss Willie Pearl Wilson
Sponsor

This year the Lee High Glee Club, under the competent direction of Miss Willie Pearl Wilson, has achieved recognition for outstanding work.

In addition to the usual Christmas program presented at school, the Glee Club provided music for the candle-light service at the Congregational Church.

This was followed by the Glee Club's participation in the Bach B Minor Mass at the Friday Musicale. This program was very successful and gained for the Glee Club an enviable musical rating in the city.

The operetta, "The Sorcerer", was presented two nights, April 1 and 2. The operetta, a Gilbert and Sullivan production, was very popular and was largely attended.

The Glee Club competed in the Florida State Contest at Tampa and was awarded first place in the classification of girls' voices, second place in the boys' chorus and second place in the mixed Glee Club.

The annual spring concert was presented in the Lee Auditorium May 26. The first part of the program was directed by Miss Wilson, and the second part was composed of numbers arranged and directed by several members of the Glee Club.

Each year the club elects officers at the beginning of the school year. The officers this year are: Tula Hilty, president; Susan Palmer, vice-president; Frances Glenn, secretary; Bill MacGowan, treasurer; and Frances Myers, Scrap-Book Keeper.

The Parent-Teacher Association, today numbering over two and one-third million adults, faces a new and difficult task—new, because youth in a modern world has new problems and new situations to meet; difficult, because of the sharp demands made by our present social and economic life. If parents and teachers are to keep up with the tempo of present-day living they must revise and bring up to date their modes of dealing with the rising generation. Today's test of achievement for the Parent-Teacher Association is its ability to respond intelligently and purposefully to all demands of a new citizenship for a new day.

ATHLETICS

The dreadful climax of the conflict was approaching when Lee invaded Pennsylvania to meet Meade at Gettysburg. Inevitably the tide of war turned against the poverty-stricken South and for two years Lee's army, almost alone, carried on a brave but losing fight. In 1864 with Sherman at his back, General Lee and his Virginians began the titanic struggle with Grant. Then occurred the battles of the Wilderness, of Spottsylvania Court House, Cold Harbor, and the long siege of Petersburg. With odds of one man to three, Lee was finally forced to fall back.

It was a worn and tattered Confederate army that, on April 9, 1865, bivouacked at Appomattox. General Lee and General Grant met, and in solemn dignity, the gallant Army of Northern Virginia surrendered.

Seated on his faithful gray horse, "Traveler", which had carried him since early in the war, Lee bade farewell to his devoted soldiers:

"Remember! We are one country now. Dismiss from your minds all sectional feeling and bring up your children to be, above all, Americans".

The photograph of Lee on "Traveler" was taken in 1866. Lee is in his Confederate uniform.

SPORTS AT LEE

THERE are four major sports at Lee in which a large percentage of the student body take an interest, either as a participant or as a fan. The four sports are football, basketball, baseball, and track. All of these sports are capably supervised by our competent coaching staff, consisting of Head Coach Kirkham, Assistant Coach Lockett, Coach Piombo, and Coach Shearer. In addition to these sports for boys there is the Girls' Athletic Association with other sporting activities for girls, ably supervised by Miss Clemans and Miss Holden.

The athletic program begins before the school year opens, when many young stalwarts come out three weeks in advance for the football team. The football season progresses rapidly with intra-state high school competition until the final big game on Thanksgiving Day with Jackson. This schedule calls for approximately ten weeks of intensified activity.

As the football season nears its climax, and sometimes beforehand, basketball practice begins. The basketball season lasts until about the middle of March when, simultaneously, baseball, track, and tennis get under way.

The track season opens with great enthusiasm and terminates with the State High School Track and Field Meet shortly before the close of school.

The G.A.A. is very active throughout the year and the girl participants derive untold pleasures from various sports in which they take part. Their annual program also includes many hikes, picnics, and, as a grand climax of the year, a house party at the beach.

Athletics at Lee, since the founding of the school, bear enviable records which can be attributed to the superior material at Lee and excellent coaching staff.

BASKETBALL—1942

SUMMARY OF BASKETBALL

At the beginning of the season the basketball outlook for the 1942 season was none too bright, as seven lettermen from the 1941 Big Ten Championship and Regional Championship team had graduated. Only two lettermen were on hand for the initial practice, and unless some hard work were done, Lee High's basketball fortunes were not to be as rosy as the past year.

Refusing to become disheartened by several bad early season losses, the Generals managed to finish the season with a record of eleven wins and seven losses. They tied with Hillsborough of Tampa for third place in the Big Ten and finished second in Duval County.

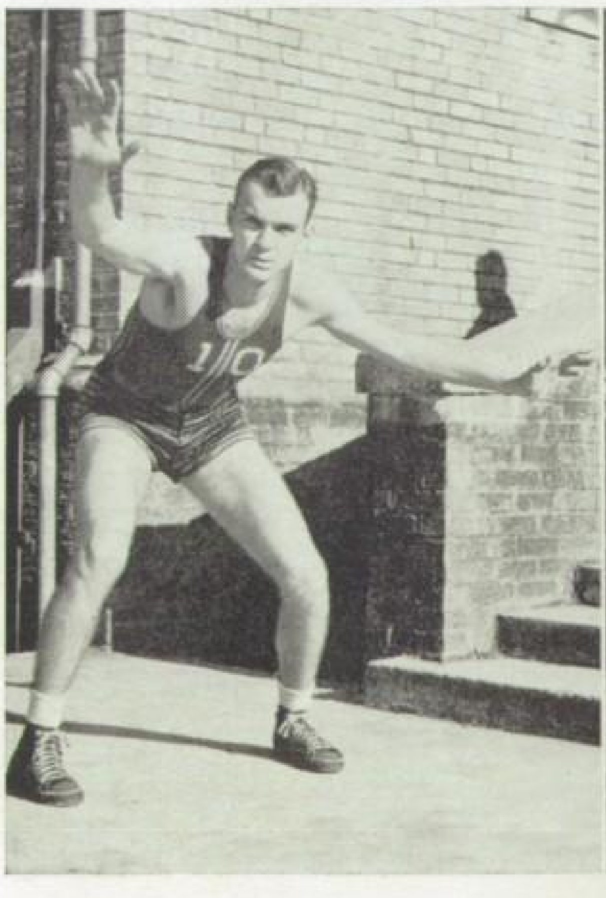

In the Regional Tournament they lost a heart-breaking 20-19 game to Jackson in the semi-finals and in the quarter-finals of the State Class A Tournament, Plant High of Tampa eked out a slim 44-42 win over the inspired Generals.

Much can be said of the spirit and determination of this year's quintet, who, by hard work and much practice, moulded a team of which every student was justly proud.

Lee High's 1942 diamond squad finished in second place in the City Interscholastic League. Chances of winning the City Title for the second straight year were alive up until the last week of the campaign.

Coach Lockett, replacing Coach Jury, was in charge of the baseball team this year. "Cap" Ross, veteran City League infielder aided Coach Lockett in the coaching of the spirited team.

The Generals' two most notable achievements of the season were their defeating of Landon's pennant-winning team in two games, 8-1 and 8-5, and scoring a thrilling 2-1 victory over Jackson's Tigers in the game that decided second place in the circuit.

Expectations for next season look exceedingly bright as only five players of this year's squad will graduate, and several outstanding players are entering from John Gorrie.

1942 TRACK TEAM

The 1942 Track Team made a very creditable showing in each of the seven meets that it entered throughout the state. Paced by miler Horace Chance and weight man George Hills, the well-balanced team led an experienced field of contestants to take first place in the county meet held on Lackawanna Field. An easy victory was scored in a quadrangular meet held on the Lee Field with Landon, Fletcher, and Daytona Beach.

Out of town meets this year took the Generals to Gainesville on two occasions to participate with statewide competition and to St. Petersburg for the West Coast Meet. In these out of town meets, the Generals placed well to complete a very successful season.

MILITARY

After the war was over, Robert E. Lee returned to civilian life never to draw his sword again. It was with great satisfaction and with perfect sincerity that Lee accepted the presidency of Washington College, at Lexington, Virginia. Having led the sons of the South in war, he was now to guide them in peace. There, with his family, the old soldier set about his new labors.

With quiet dignity, Lee conducted the affairs of the college. He took a great interest in the religious life of his "boys", and tried to instill in them his simple philosophy of kindness and humility. He had a warm sympathy for and interest in each boy and each boy's ambition and work. In every one of his students he tried to implant that courtesy, that love of high endeavor, and that devotion to duty which ever distinguish the gentleman.

Out of respect for Robert E. Lee, the trustees, after his death, changed the name, Washington College, to Washington and Lee University.

Robert E. Lee died quietly in Lexington, Virginia, on October 12, 1870.

The photograph of Lee was taken shortly before his death while he was president of Washington College.

The Lee High Cadet Corps made a very enviable record this year under the capable leadership of Lt. David Germain and Capt. Copeland. The battalion, consisting of five companies, accomplished city-wide recognition for drilling in the Armistice Day Parade as well as the Navy Day Parade.

Activities in the school during the year constantly placed the Corps in the minds of the students. A dress parade was the high light of this year which included two formal dances and intra-mural sports. The cadets, representing their respective companies, actively participated in these tournaments which offered diversion from regular curricula activities.

HOME ROOMS

No monument in stone is needed to perpetuate the memory of Robert E. Lee; his shrine is in the hearts of men.

Throughout his life, and under all conditions, Lee commanded the love and respect of others. His Christian character, as well as his military genius, has spread his fame throughout the world.

In the deepest sense, Robert E. Lee is still alive; wherever there is a desire for education, wherever men strive in unselfish service, and wherever men feel with awe the presence of the Almighty, there lives Robert E. Lee.

The photograph is of the famous recumbent statue of Lee by Valentine. It may be seen in Lee Chapel, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Virginia.

Acknowledgements

In preparing the 1942 BLUE AND GRAY many persons took a hand. To these persons and organizations who so graciously contributed their services the Staff wishes to express its sincere thanks. The cooperation extended to the Staff greatly lightened the task of compiling this annual. Especially was this felt in research on the theme. Lack of space prohibits acknowledging all of those who assisted in the publication, but it is fitting that the following be mentioned:

Washington and Lee University of Lexington, Virginia, who supplied many of the pictures of General Lee and who offered many valuable suggestions for the presentation of the theme,

The Signal Corps, United States Army, for the use of the West Point portrait of Lee,

Miss Margaret Weed, State Director for the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation, who gave the school a copy of the portrait of Lee as a colonel in the cavalry, and who offered many suggestions for obtaining additional material.

The Reverend Frederick Griffith, Rector of Wicomico Parish, Northumberland County, Virginia, who offered references which determined the correct design of General Lee's coat-of-arms,

The Fine Arts Division of The Library of Congress, who completed the series of pictures on the life of Lee from portraits in their files,

Mrs. Amelia A. Heidt, librarian of Robert E. Lee High School, who placed valuable references on the life of Lee at the disposal of the Staff,

Garret and Massie, Publishers, Richmond, Virginia, who allowed the Staff to use material from Ethel Armes' book, "Stratford Hall",

Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, Richmond, Virginia, who allowed the Staff to use photographic material from his great biography of Lee,

Jack Egar and J. D. Theus, who made the drawing for the end-sheets.

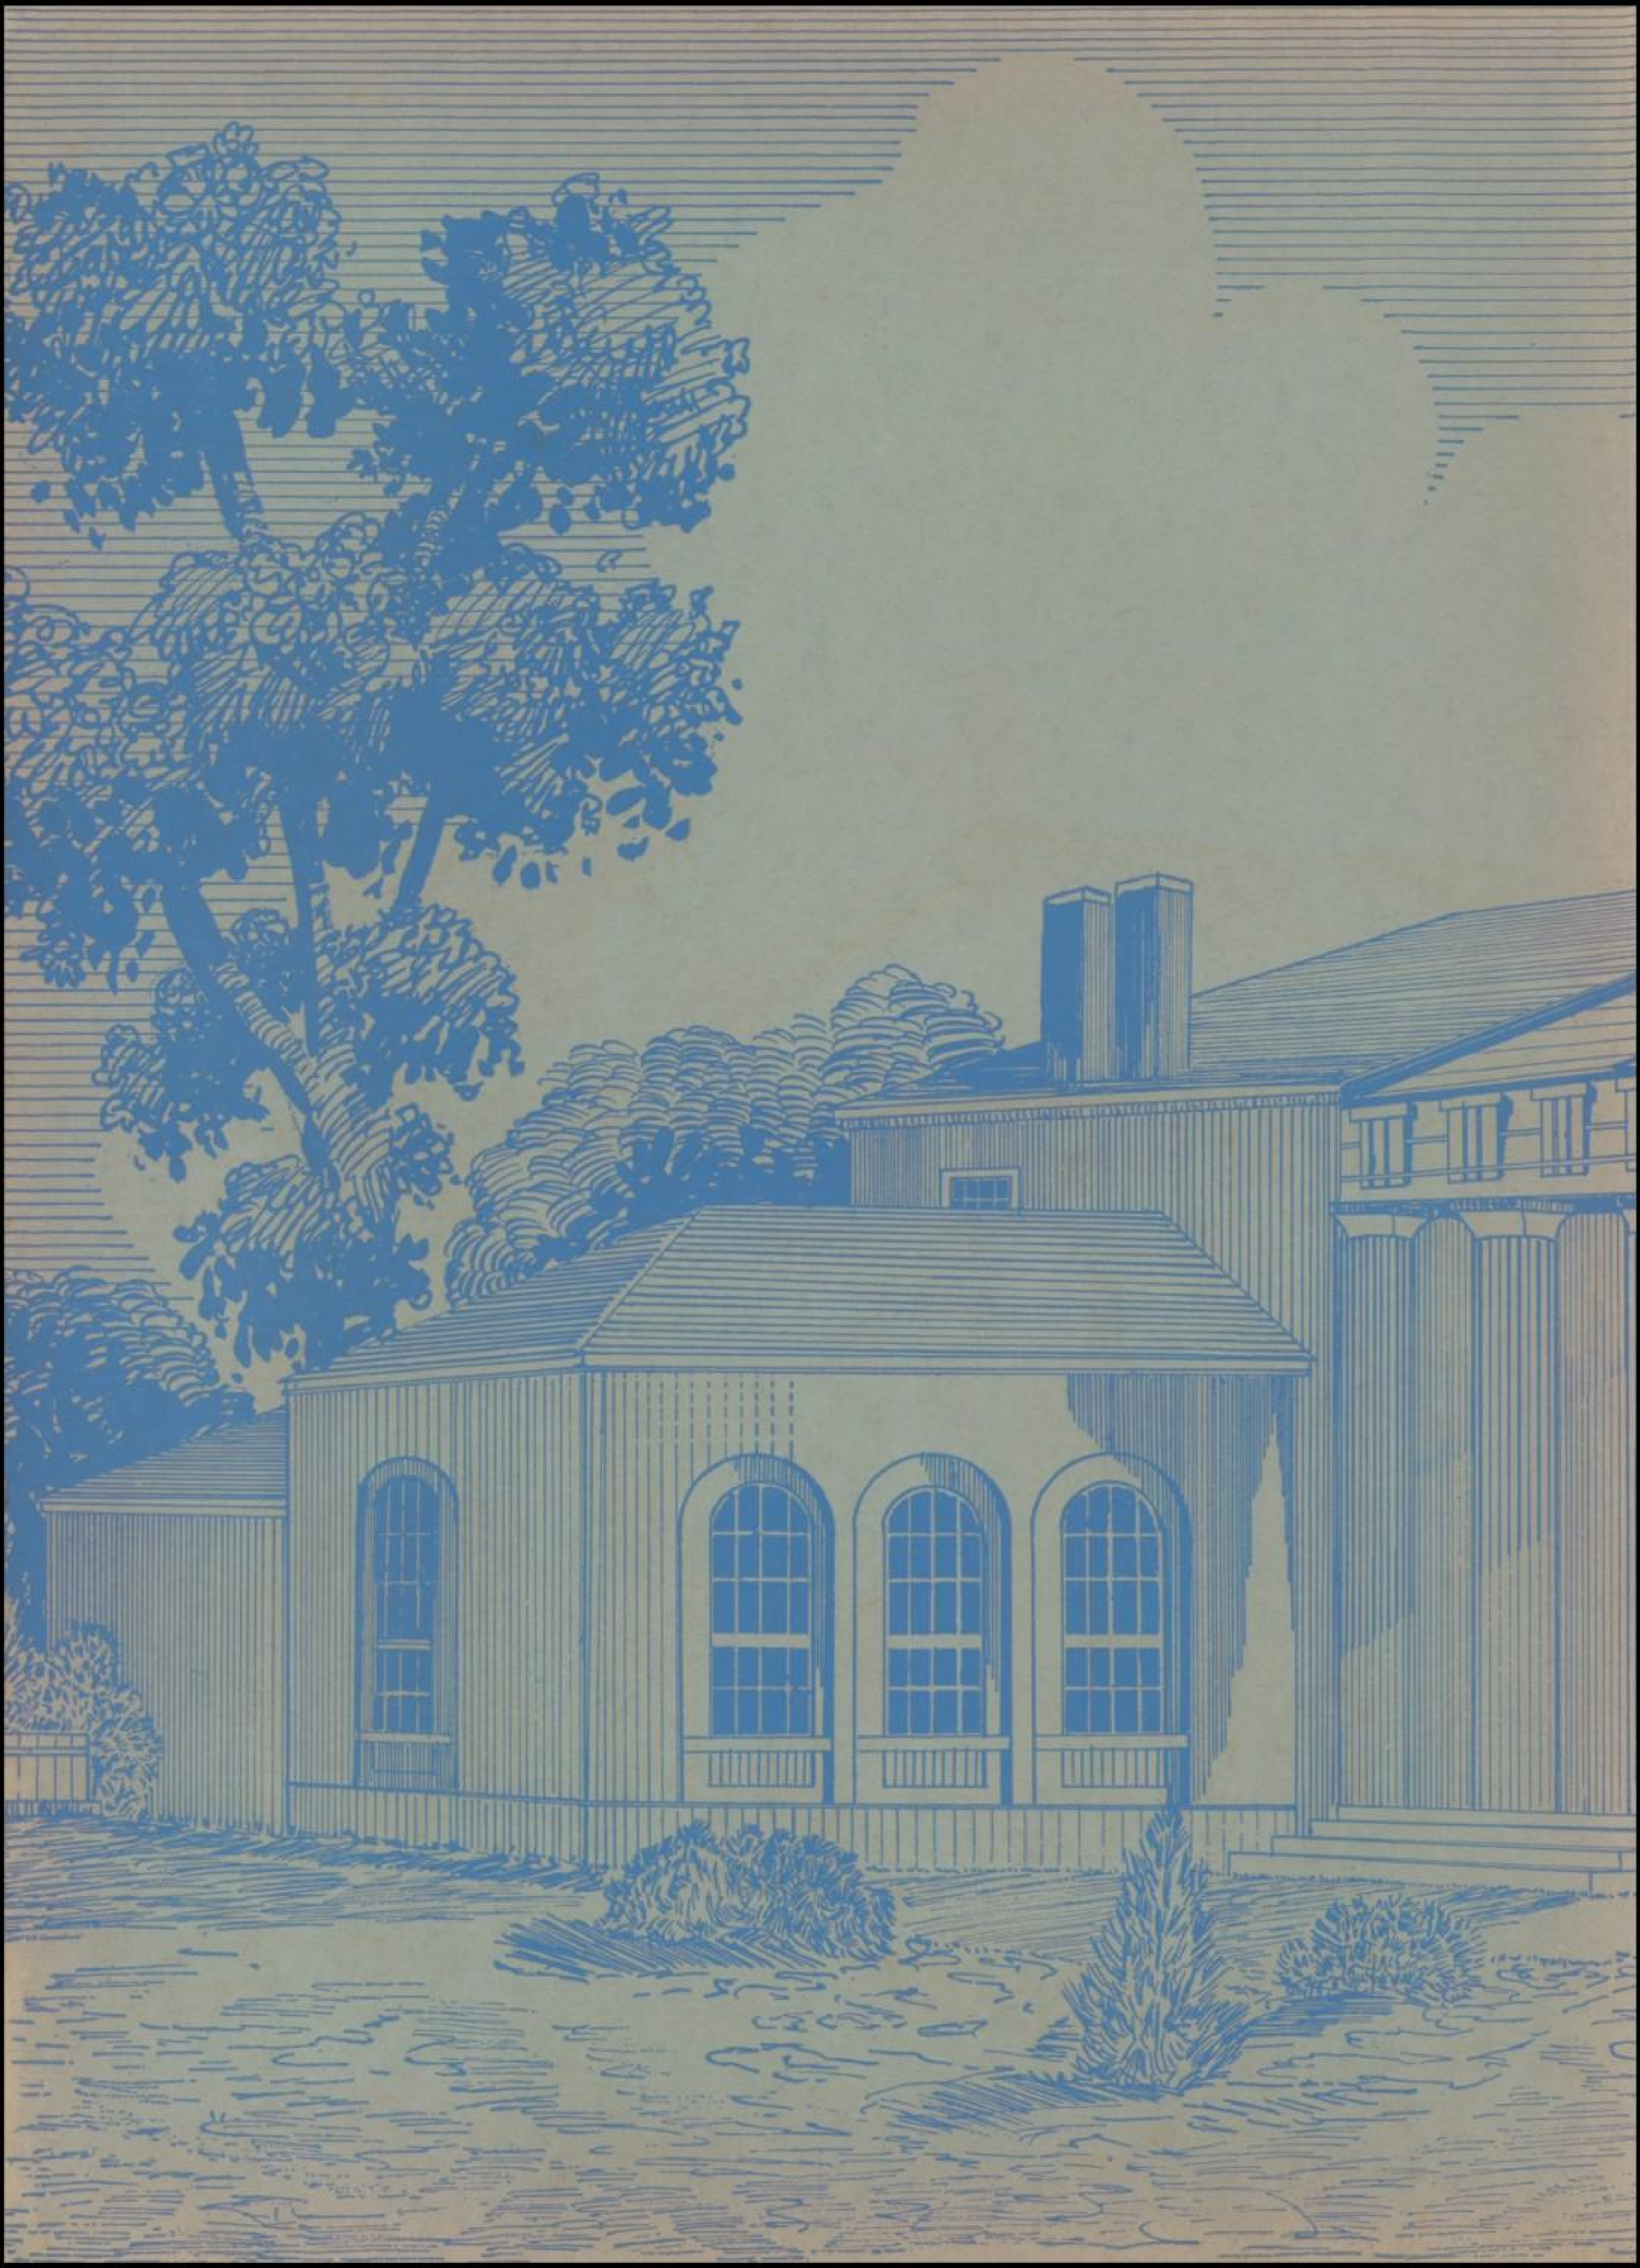

Major-General B. F. Cheatham, U. S. A. (ret.), Resident Superintendent, Stratford Hall, Virginia, who offered assistance on the theme,

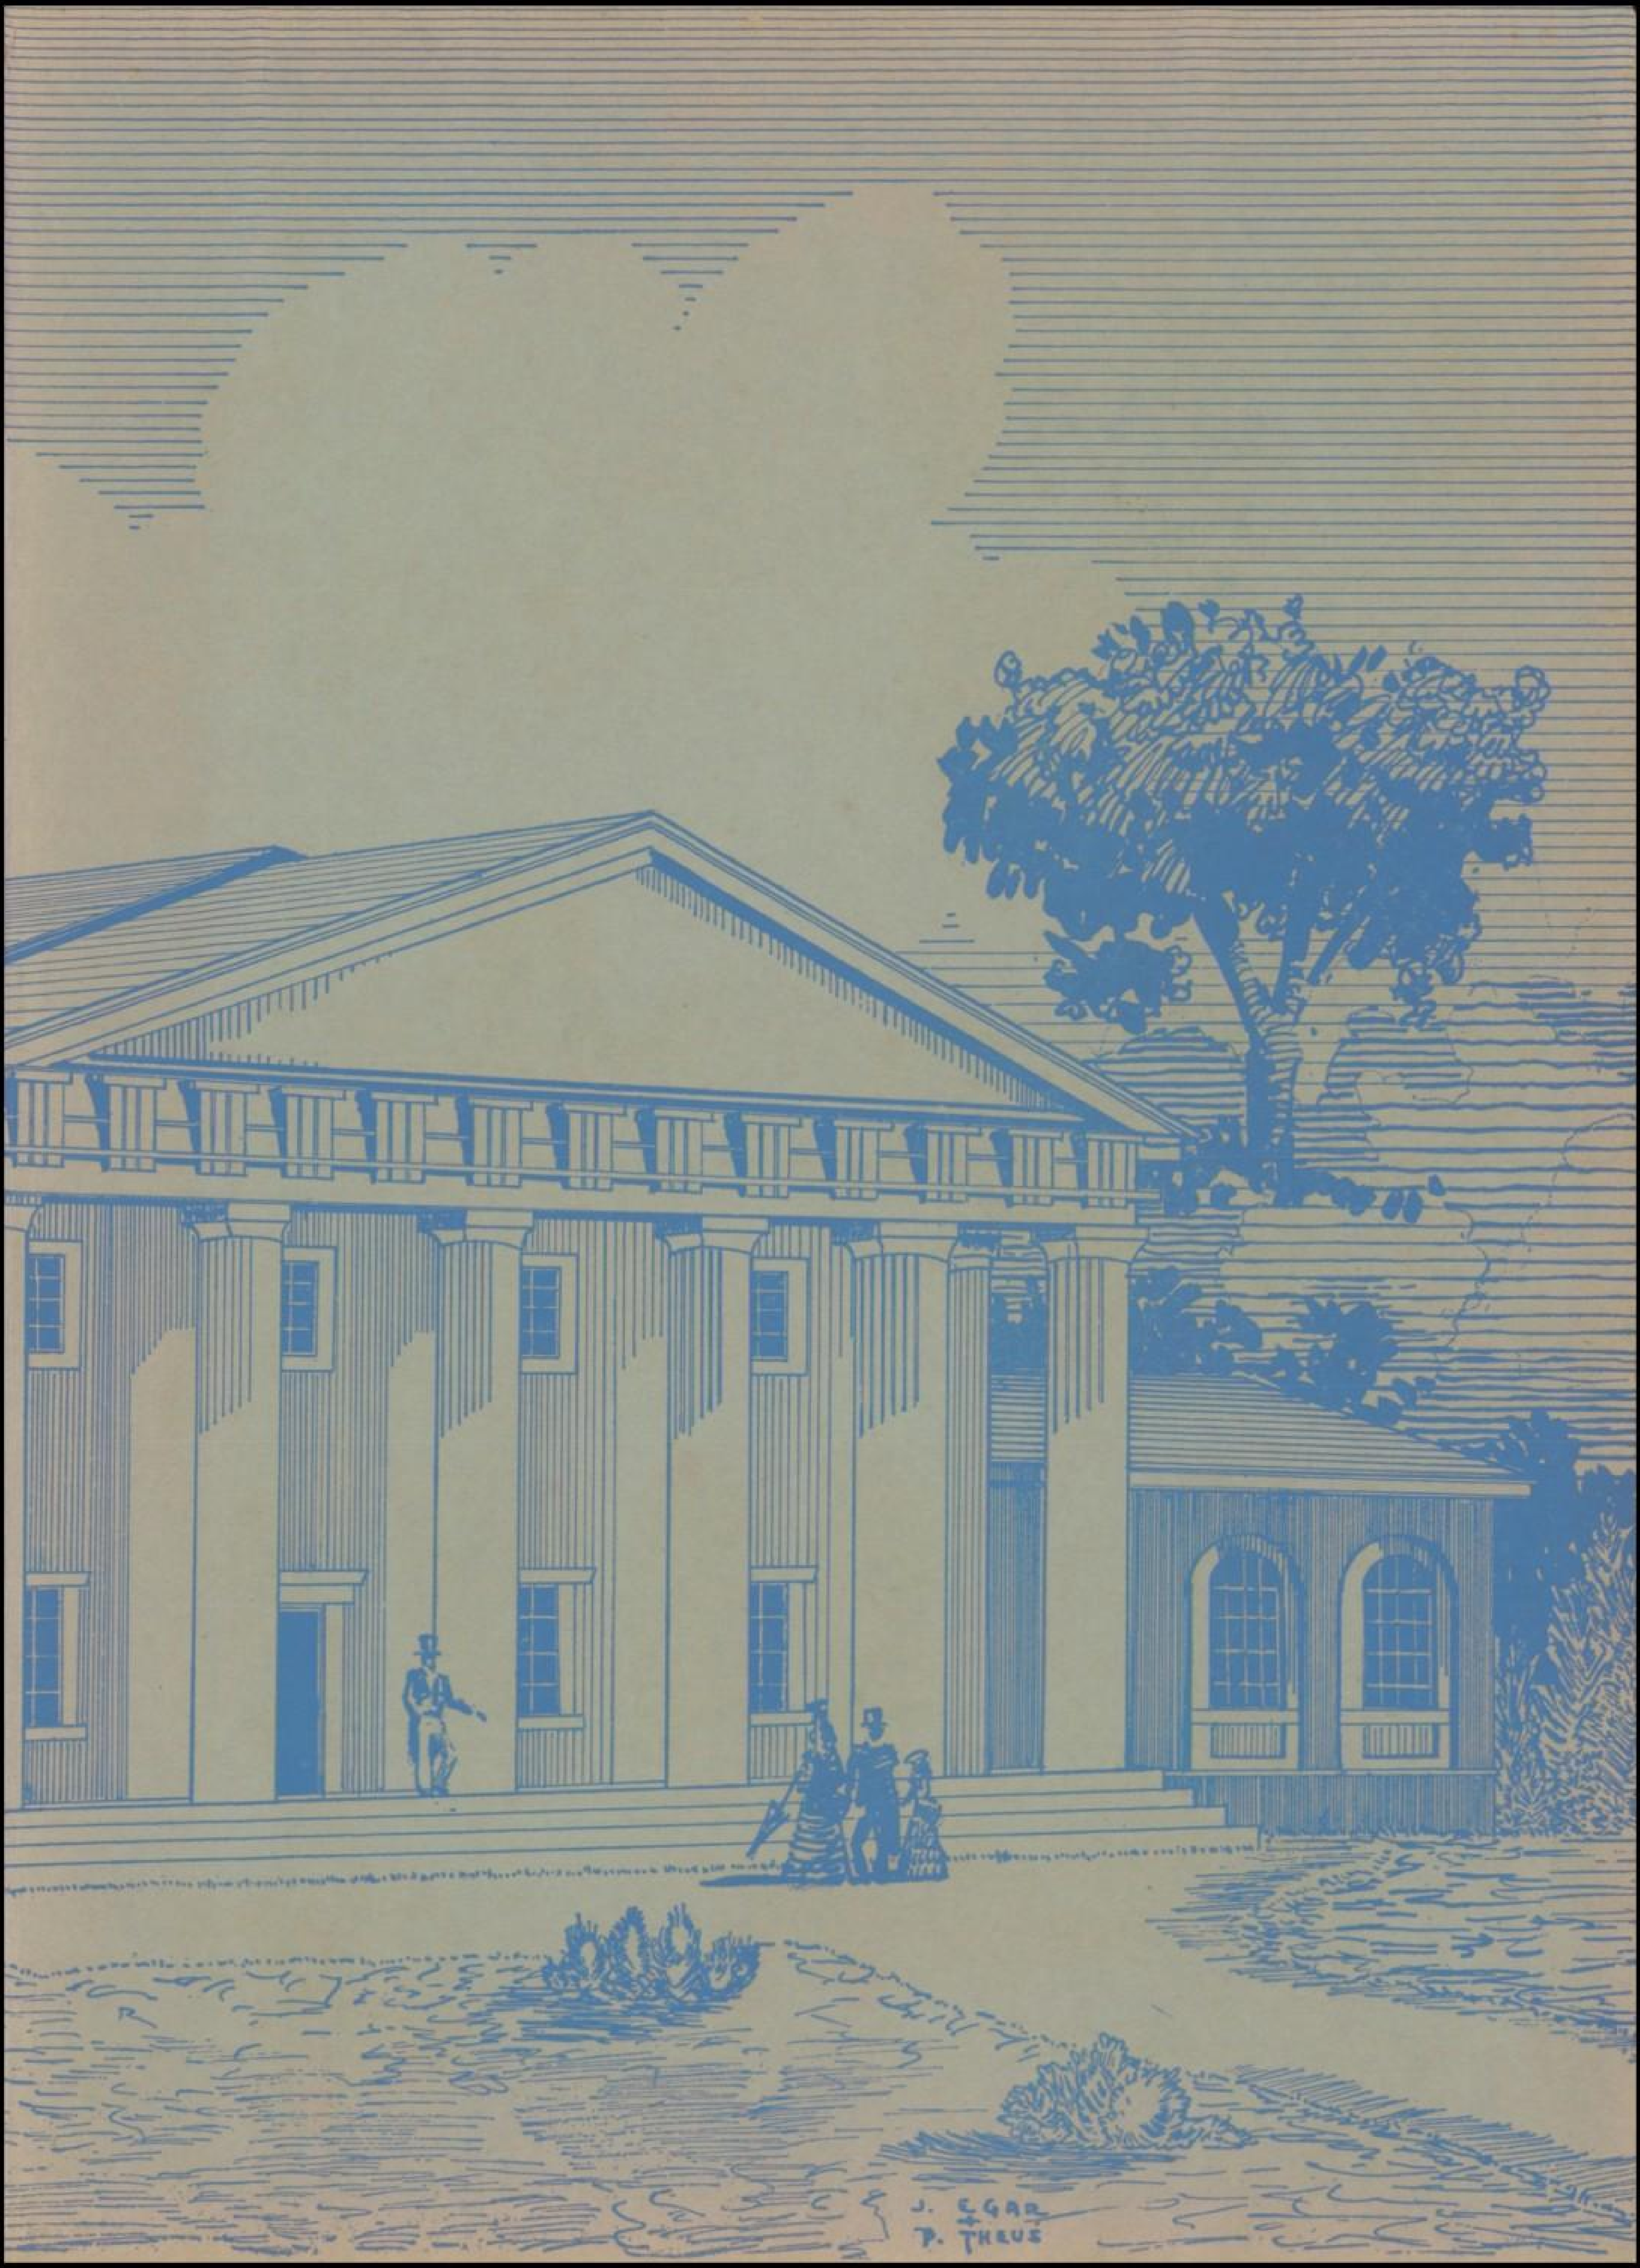

The War Savings Staff of the Treasury Department, who gave the Staff copy and cuts for the Victory Advertisement.

Mr. J. E. Gray, who through the courtesy of National Park Service, made the photograph of Arlington (opposite page) for this book.

And to the many others, without whose help this annual could not have been published.

—TOM COLEMAN, Theme Editor.
